Commissioners Assert Assessment Cost Charge "Untrue"

Political Sham Charged To Achterman

TWO REPUBLICANS denied last night that Monroe County's government is operating "in the hole" and labelled Democratic charges that the county's new tax equalization system is costing ten times too much as "grossly untrue."

These statements came from county commissioners Amzi Altomose and W. Adolph Rake. They are contained in a prepared statement issued last night by commissioners.

The statement follows:

Statement

"On October 21 The Daily Record and Radio Station WYPO gave wide distribution to remarks made by Leo Achterman, an active Democrat, concerning the conduct of the Republican county commissioners in the performance of their duties, as well as Achterman's remarks about the general policies of the Republican Party in Monroe County. By this communication, the Republican Commissioners request the following be distributed in the same manner.

"Monroe County is not operating 'in the hole'—is not bankrupt—and, as a matter of fact, had a balance of $64,810.24 on hand in the general fund (excluding other accounts) on October 20, 1955, the day Achterman made his speech; has paid no interest for money borrowed by the Republican Administration nor has it floated any bond issues. It is a matter of record that the county is on a pay-as-you-go basis and is in sound financial condition.

"The tax equalization system being installed under Republican administration is being done in accordance with the law of the State of Pennsylvania. In 1951 the Legislature passed the Pennsylvania Permanent Tax Equalization Law and the Governor signed it January 18, 1952.

"This law requires all counties in the state to establish a permanent system of tax records including maps, property indexes, basis of assessment, etc. The Republican commissioners began to comply with the commands of the law shortly after taking office in 1952.

"One of the first steps taken was to retain the services of John B. Aicher, a registered engineer, after all local engineers had rejected the job. His assignment was to do the initial mapping of the properties in the county.

"He performed his work, was paid for services rendered, and did not receive a 'hand-out'. The county received full and complete value for money paid out. When Mr. Aicher had finished his assignment, his direct connection with the county was terminated in a mutually satisfactory manner.

Second Phase

"The second and final phase of the tax equalization system is to determine the value of individual properties for tax assessment. To do this work, J. L. Jacobs and Company, Chicago, Illinois—experts in this phase of tax systems—were engaged, after the local real estate board had declined the work. That company is progressing rapidly and performing its duties to the complete satisfaction of the county commissioners, Republican and Democrat.

"Mr. Achterman's statement that Monroe County is paying ten times as much for services similar to those rendered by both Aicher and Jacobs is grossly untrue. As a matter of fact, if Mr. Achterman can do the job himself and guarantee satisfaction at the low figure he mentions, the Jacobs company will without a doubt engage his services.

"The purpose of the permanent tax equalization law is to guarantee that every citizen shall bear only his fair share of the tax burden and assure him he will pay no more or no less than any other person owning property of value equal to his own. The Republican Administration is acting in accordance with the law of the State, and all inferences by Mr. Achterman that the work can be discontinued—indeed never should have been started—are misleading and detrimental to the welfare of Monroe County residents.

"All other monies spent by the commissioners are for approved projects passed by the Board without dissenting vote from the Democratic member—are fully accounted for and can be verified by audit."

"The Republican commissioners take this opportunity to notify all of the residents and voters of ROSES FOR DEDICATED SERVICE to the Community Chest of Monroe County were given at this week's annual dinner to Mrs. Harry Weiss, Brodheadville. Men pinning on the corsage is Fran Shinn, publicity coordinator for the current Chest campaign. Mrs. Weiss has been active in the Chest drives each year almost since the beginning. This year's West End workers attended the dinner in large number.

Eisenhower Takes His First Walking Steps After Attack

DENVER, Oct. 25 (P)—President Eisenhower walked today for the first time since his heart attack Sept. 24.

And the first newsmen to get close to the President since his illness reported that "he looked just about the same to me"—not like a man who has spent a month in bed. He said Eisenhower's color was "good" and his voice firm.

Queen's Trip Stirs Ideas On Margaret

LONDON, Oct. 25 (P)—A surprise announcement today that Queen Elizabeth II plans to visit Nigeria stirred up some fresh speculation on the Princess Margaret-Peter Townsend romance.

And only the clock saved Prime Minister Eden from questioning in the House of Commons on the courtship.

The Buckingham Palace disclosure that the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh will leave in January for West Africa caused some to wonder whether the monarch planned to be out of the country if her sister and the 40-year-old divorced air hero decide to marry about that time.

The announcement said the Queen and her husband would begin their tour of Nigeria in the last few days of January and that it is to end toward the middle of February. There has been no previous indication that such a trip was under consideration. Royal visits generally are announced much more in advance.

AFL And CIO In Dispute Over Political Action Leadership Under Coming Merger

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (P)—The AFL and CIO, preparing to merge into one big union, were reported today to be embroiled in a dispute over leadership of the new organization's political department.

The AFL was reported pushing for James L. McDewitt for the post. He is director of Labor's League for Political Education, the AFL's political branch. The CIO feels Jack Kroll, director of the CIO Political Action Committee, should at least be codirector.

At stake is the question who will direct the proposed 15-million-member labor organization's political activities in the 1956 election campaign. McDewitt comes from Pennsylvania and Kroll from Ohio.

The dispute is one of several major feuds that must be settled before plans can be completed for the scheduled merger in December. AFL and CIO union negotiators will try to resolve the dispute at a meeting in New York tomorrow.

Agree on McDewitt

AFL and CIO leaders reportedly agreed on McDewitt tentatively, some time ago. The CIO, however, now is insisting that Kroll have at least a codirector status with McDewitt for the coming presidential campaign.

The CIO argues that Kroll, being a CIO man, could do a better job

Weapons Cost One-Tenth Of West's Prices

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (P)—Egypt's arms deal with the Communist bloc is reported to total 80 million dollars with individual weapons priced at about one tenth to one fifth of what Western countries would charge.

Diplomatic officials who reported this today said they understood the Egyptians have contracted to buy some 200 Soviet MIG jet fighters, 100 Russian tanks, half a dozen submarines and sizable quantities of artillery.

The cut rate prices agreed to by the Communists are reported to be virtually unprecedented. They are understood to be far below the price Red China has been forced to pay for similar Soviet equipment.

The first shipment of these Communist weapons, agreed upon in a deal between Egypt and Czechoslovakia nearly a month ago, has already arrived in Egypt from the Soviet port of Odessa, informants said. Additional boatloads are set to follow in the near future.

First Report

Information provided by diplomats is the first authoritative report on the quantities and prices involved in the Egyptian government's deal.

To make it as painless as possible for the Egyptians, the Communists are said to be asking only $50,000 for each MIG fighter. Prices for Soviet submarines, these informants said, are 1 1/2 million dollars apiece. The cost for tanks, artillery and other weapons included in the deal is reported to be equally low.

Egypt is being asked to provide only a small fraction of the cost in actual money. Surplus Egyptian cotton and rice will pay for the bulk of the purchase. But Egypt is understood to have already made a down payment of one million British pounds ($2,800,000) to a Czech bank to start the flow of Communist arms.

The start of actual weapons deliveries has increased the grave concern felt by top American officials over the possible outbreak of hostilities between Egypt and Israel.

Harrington Collector Of Taxes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (P)—Russell Chase Harrington, accounting executive of Providence, R. I., was tapped tonight to be the nation's new chief tax collector.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey announced he is recommending that President Eisenhower appoint Harrington to be commissioner of Internal Revenue. The President is expected to follow the recommendation.

Harrington will replace T. Coleman Andrews, of Richmond, Va., whose resignation effective Oct. 31, to return to private business, has been accepted by the President.

Land Safely

KENDAL, England, Wednesday, Oct. 26 (P)—Westmoreland County police reported today all 11 crew members of a U. S. Air Force B29 crashed safely before the plane crashed a few miles south of here.

Snow Melts

ALBANY, Oct. 25 (P)—Rising temperatures today melted most of the snow which earlier had fluttered over much of New York State.

Former British Diplomat To Washington Named As Burgess-MacLean Tipoff Man

LONDON, Oct. 25 (P)—A Laborite MP today named a former British diplomat in Washington as the shadowy third man whose last minute warning gave Soviet spies Guy Burgess and Donald Maclean time enough to escape behind the Iron Curtain.

Lt. Col. Marcus Lipton touched off an uproar in the House of Commons by charging that Harold Philby, then first secretary of the Washington Embassy, gave the tip-off just as a security net was closing in on the two Foreign Office diplomats.

Burgess and Maclean disappeared May 12, 1951, after British intelligence learned they had been for a long time espionage agents for the Kremlin. Both men had access to key Western secrets. Maclean was head of the Foreign Office's American Department.

Resigned in '51

Government sources said Philby served in Washington from October, 1949 to the summer of 1951 and was friendly with Burgess, who for a time was an associate on the embassy staff. Philby was recalled to London a month after Burgess and Maclean fled. He resigned from the Foreign Office on Sept. 18, 1951.

Philby, son of a distinguished British explorer, Harry Philby, is a free lance journalist now living near London. Mrs. Philby told newsmen at their country home that her husband was out and there would be no immediate comment on Lipton's charges.

The Laborite legislator hurled his accusation after Prime Minister Eden turned down his demand for a parliamentary investigation of the Burgess-Maclean affair and the government's new security regulations.

(In Washington, diplomatic informants reported Philby was a security officer at the British Embassy during his tour of duty in the United States.

(Philby's responsibilities, they said, were to make sure all embassy personnel maintained the proper secrecy of vital information and papers.)

Illegal Drug Sales Bring Arrests

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (P)—The government cracked down with 42 arrests in a half-dozen states today in a campaign to stop the illegal sale of stimulating drugs to truck drivers.

The suddenly launched drive followed a year of secret investigation in which undercover agents posed as truck drivers to spot places where the drugs have been dispensed.

U. S. attorneys filed 22 criminal actions naming 42 persons connected with truck stops, service stations, cafes and drug stores.

"Goof Balls"

The drugs involved are amphetamines. Officials said truckers call them "goof balls," "bennies," or "cokelets," and take them to stay awake on long trips.

Atty. Gen. Brownell and Secretary of Welfare Folsom announced the arrests. Food and Drug Commissioner George P. Larrick also put out a statement asserting use of the stimulants has had "tragic" effects in accidents and injuries.

Larrick's inspectors did the undercover work. They hired out with cooperating truckers and also plied interstate routes in an Army tractor-trailer painted to look like a regular commercial carrier.

Their reports led to the crackdown in Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Illinois and Indiana.

Many Use Them

The commissioner said his men bought as many as 4,000 tablets from one of the individuals charged in the drive. But he also noted that improper use of the drugs "is by no means confined to truck drivers." He said the agency will press its enforcement efforts in "problems of juvenile delinquency and crime."

Larrick added his inspectors had received valuable aid from the trucking industry, drug manufacturing firms and many drivers. A "great majority" of working truckmen, he said, avoided the drugs.

Lausche Give Big Backing By Russell

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (P)—Ohio's Governor Frank Lausche got a political boost from two Southern Democrats today. Their words indicated a possible Dixie challenge to Adlai E. Stevenson and other potential top contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), who ran unsuccessfully for the nomination Stevenson won in 1952, said he thinks Lausche could become "a very formidable candidate because he represents a middle-of the road viewpoint in the Democratic party."

Molotov Hopeful

BERLIN, Oct. 25 (P)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov said today he hopes the Big Four foreign ministers will achieve at Geneva a further lessening of world tension.

Free Ride Battle

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (P)—A battle within the Civil Aeronautics Board, about free airline rides for its personnel, broke into the open today with the announcement of a new CAB policy approving such flights.

Dulles Schedules Trip To See Tito For Major Talks

PARIS, Oct. 25 (P)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles announced today he plans to meet President Tito in Communist Yugoslavia Nov. 6.

The visit will underscore the importance of the Balkan leader in East-West diplomacy. Dulles will be the highest ranking American ever to visit the Yugoslav marshal and this will be his first meeting with Tito.

Dulles told reporters of his plans after a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization foreign ministers. Asked why he was going to Yugoslavia, he smiled and replied, "I've never been there before."

Spend One Day

The four power foreign ministers conference at Geneva, opening Thursday, may not be over by then, but Nov. 6 is a Sunday and it would likely be in recess. Belgrade dispatches indicate Dulles expects to spend only one day in Yugoslavia. The Yugoslav government said he will arrive by air at Pula, in the northwest part of the country, Nov. 6 and travel immediately to Brioni Island for lunch with Tito. He then will fly back to Geneva. Mrs. Dulles likely will accompany him.

Thus it seems likely Dulles wants assurances personally from Tito on Yugoslavia's status in world affairs. The State Department in Washington said the visit affords "an opportunity for a general exchange of views on problems of current interest."

Yugoslavia is a member of the Balkan pact linking it with Greece and Turkey. In time of war, Yugoslavia would be in the position of a potential bridge between the NATO countries of Eastern and Western Europe.

Tito has received around a half billion dollars in American military and economic aid since the 1948 communist break.

Jet Fighters Alerted For "Enemy" Blow

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (P)—A signal flashed across the country at 8:28 a.m. EST today, sending jet fighters of the Air National Guard aloft to meet a theoretical enemy bombing force.

Thousands of National Guardsmen rushed from their civilian jobs to take part in the practice alert, called "Operation Stowaway."

Two F-86 Starfire jets took off from a White Plains, N.Y., airbase four minutes after the alert sounded. They were followed by six others.

In Air Swiftly

A fighter interceptor squadron attached to the Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland was in the air 10 minutes after receipt of the warning signal from the Air Defense Command headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo. The squadron is one of those assigned to protect the national capital.

The Air National Guard announced Oct. 6 that a practice alert would be held sometime during this month, but the date was kept secret. The purpose of the test, the Air Defense Command said, was "to establish the time required to alert, man and employ the air national guard after a state of air defense readiness had been declared."

Early reports showed it took from four minutes to an hour and a half to mobilize the National Guard squadrons and get their planes into the air. Florida's first fighter was up in 46 minutes.

Few Hitches

Col. Magnus B. Marks, commanding the 127th Wing in Detroit, reported: "There were a few hitches; each squadron made its flight in jig time."

Minister Heads For Big Jackpot

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (P)—The Rev. Alvin Kershaw, a jazz-loving Episcopal minister, tonight proved his minute knowledge of his subject by winning $32,000 on a television quiz show.

Next week, the Rev. Mr. Kershaw can take a crack at the grand prize on the CBS program, "The $64,000 Question," or he can retire with his winnings.

Godfrey Fires Three More Of His Radio-Television Family

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (P)—Arthur Godfrey today fired three more members of his radio-television family—including Larry Puck, the recently married co-producer of the Talent Scout show.

Out with Puck went the show's musical conductor and its announcer.

Puck's wife, Marion Marlowe, was fired from the Godfrey show last April, a month before their marriage. Puck had been demoted when their engagement was announced but continued to help produce the Monday night show.

The Columbia Broadcasting System said Godfrey gave no reason for the latest in a series of shake-ups he has ordered.

Godfrey could not be reached for comment immediately.

Besides Puck, the others fired were Jerry Bresler, musical conductor of the talent show since Jan. 23, 1954, and George Bryan, the program's announcer since 1946.

Puck had co-produced the show since 1949. Until last December,

The Weather

West Leaders In Agreement On Objective

PARIS, Oct. 25 (P)—Western leaders asserted tonight that continued division of Germany poses the threat of conflict over all Europe. They determined to make Germany's reunification their number one objective at the Geneva conference with the Soviet Union.

The foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization reached this decision in approving the plans and positions of the United States, Britain and France for the four-power meeting with the Russians beginning Thursday.

Unanimous

A NATO spokesman said the ministers were unanimous in the opinion that there can be no real security in Europe so long as Germany remains divided. Hence, proposals for a European security pact must be absolutely linked to German reunification, they agreed.

The ministers met for three hours this morning, then reassembled in the Palais de Chaillot for another two hours this afternoon to hear and discuss reports from U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay on the Big Three's attitude in the Geneva talks. A NATO communique said all ministers of the 15-nation alliance "expressed their agreement with the general positions outlined."

The Big Three leaders handed the other ministers the text of a lengthy memorandum embodying the proposals they intend to present to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov at Geneva. In turn, each explained portions of the text.

Dulles outlined proposals for Germany's reunification and a 14-nation European security pact to which Communist nations also would adhere. The treaty would be designed primarily to reassure Russia against any future German aggression.

Trade, Tourism

Macmillan explained Western disarmament proposals which are being handled chiefly in the United Nations' subcommittee on disarmament in New York. Pinay outlined projects for the improvement of in the field of trade, tourism and the exchange of information.

Molotov arrived in East Berlin today en route to Geneva. He said he hopes the four foreign ministers will achieve a further lessening of world tension. He repeated the Soviet stand that an all-European security pact must be agreed upon before East and West Germany can be unified.

Polish Officers Released

GENEVA, Switzerland, Oct. 25 (P)—Polish sources here said today the Soviet Union has released 3,000 Polish officers, most of them leaders of the futile 1944 anti-Nazi Warsaw uprising in which some 200,000 Poles were killed while Soviet armies stood poised outside the city.

The sources said the first 700 prisoners reached Warsaw two days ago and the remainder are expected by train from Brest-Litovsk this week. The Polish sources are here for the Big Four foreign ministers conference opening Thursday. They gave this account:

The Polish prisoners were released on the request of Polish Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz after Moscow announced it was returning more than 9,000 German prisoners. They include remnants of 20,000 Polish resistance leaders who fell into Russian hands during the Russian and Nazi invasion of Poland in 1939. The others died in captivity.

Approval Near On A-Commission

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 25 (P)—The U. N. Political Committee moved nearer to agreement tonight on a resolution approving a world conference to set up an international atomic energy agency.

The committee ended general debate and took up resolutions to provide for another atomic-for-peace conference in two or three years and for still another international meeting to write the constitution for the atomic agency.

Barrett Y Drive Hits New High

THE FIRST week of the Barrett YMCA's membership drive has just been completed.

Reports show six family memberships, ten adult memberships, three local memberships, and 26 youth enrollments. $280.00 has been turned in to the "Y" headquarters and these reports are indicative of a good response of persons in the community.

Co-Chairman

Mrs. Lena Swaine and Mrs. John Henry are co-chairmen of this year's campaign and are hoping to complete the drive in a one month period. They point out that this year's campaign is one conducted only for new members; last year's memberships are asked to return their membership fee for the coming year by mail.

The drive's financial goal is $1,500 but it is pointed out by leaders that the greatest desire is to have as many different persons in the Barrett area belong to this community-serving agency.

Workers on this drive are asked to report their efforts as soon as possible to the "Y" building.

GSA Expose Planned By Rep. Celler

By Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON, October 25—Another sensational "conflict of interests" expose is about to make headlines.

This time the official is in the General Service Administration, in charge of government realty holdings and construction totaling more than $1,000,000,000.

The disclosures will be made by the House Anti-Trust Investigating Committee, headed by Representative Emanuel Celler (D., N.Y.).

It has scheduled hearings on Wednesday, and the GSA official has agreed to be present with counsel. The latter is the same attorney who accompanied former Air Secretary Harold Talbot, when he was under fire before the Senate Investigating Committee on "conflict of interest" charges.

The Celler Committee claims to have evidence the GSA official gave government building contracts to firms dealing with his engineering concern.

Vocal Music Group Started

VOCAL MUSIC groups have been organized for the new school year at East Stroudsburg High School.

Robert Hartman, director of vocal music for the school, is now conducting rehearsals for several groups, including a mixed chorus, boys and girls choral groups and ensembles.

Monroe County that their government is solvent—has increasing income—with expenses kept in proper relation to income. The Republican commissioners also point out that under their management county-owned property is in better condition than it has been in years—that all county offices are equipped with modern machinery and methods, the better to serve the people who have occasion to use these offices.

"The commissioners also want to publicly state they have complete faith that the voters of Monroe County will see through the political sham of Mr. Achterman and have nothing but contempt for statements by him—trained as an attorney—a former legislator—with access to the official records—for making such ridiculous remarks about county officers who are serving conscientiously and spending county funds with prudence and judgment."

Behind Lines Unity Drive Before Geneva

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst

I CAN'T recall any occasion when an American Secretary of State has devoted such strenuous effort to behind-the-lines unity as has Foster Dulles in connection with the foreign ministers conference which begins tomorrow.

Dulles has spoken personally to the representatives of at least 36 nations in addition to a large group of American congressional leaders, explaining and trying to insure their support, or at least their silence if they disagree, for the Allied program at Geneva. The matter certainly will come up during his visits to Austria and Yugoslavia.

Every American and European nation with which the United States is allied has been consulted, and there seems to be an unparalleled unanimity. Dulles made a special trip to Italy just to demonstrate to her people and government the concern of the Big Three for their opinions, despite the fact that the Allies are not inclined to complicate things with Russia by including the wartime enemy in the formal Western line-up for peace discussions.

It is noticeable but not particularly significant that these pre-Geneva consultations have been with members of America's two great Western alliances, NATO and the Western Hemisphere pact, and not with Southeast Asian or other Oriental allies. So far, the United States is moving very deliberately with regard to policy in that area.

Seize As Warnings

Aside from clarifying the Allied program and heightening the appearance of Western unity as the Big Three meet the Russians, the pre-Geneva explanations also serve to give advance warnings of the known difficulties to be faced.

The Allies realize they aren't offering Russia much in return for German reunification, which they have coupled with an all-European security pact as the chief topic of the conference. They are saying "You give up East Germany, and we'll see to it that the unified Germany never attacks you."

Russia is very likely to say "Why give up East Germany when, as long as we have it, we can see to that ourselves."

In that case, the Allies have made it clear they intend to trade no principles, no part of their own strength such as West German affiliation with NATO, for a dangerous facade of peaceful-looking but nonmaterial settlements.

By clarifying all this in advance, the Big Three hope to avoid the disheartenment among their Allies which might follow the failure of Geneva to produce any real progress.

250 Expected To Attend Convention

SOME 250 PERSONS are expected to attend the 60th annual convention of the Monroe County Sunday School Association which opens tonight at Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

Services will be held at 7:45 tonight and tomorrow at the church. The annual fellowship supper and business meeting is scheduled for 6 p.m. tomorrow.

Miss Mabel Francis, a veteran missionary to Japan, will be the main speaker tonight. Her talk will be followed by brief messages on Japan and Africa by two local girls, Miss Helen Harvey and Miss Barbara Hartman.

Pen Argyl Choir

The Pen Argyl Methodist Church Male Quartet will provide special music tonight.

Rev. Benjamin H. Hostetter, pastor of East Stroudsburg Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, will have charge of the devotional period, and Warren W. Godshall, Sunday school association president, will preside at the session.

At the 7:45 p.m. service tomorrow, the speaker will be Rev. Howard Moody Morgan, pastor of the Chambers-Wylie Memorial Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, and son of the late G. Campbell Morgan, internationally-known Bible expositor.

MEMBERS OF THE Presbyterian congregation attended a "get-acquainted" reception at the manse, Sunday night, to meet Mr. and Mrs. Corson Deffenbaugh. As the various groups lingered a half hour or so, they were served doughnuts and cider. At the morning worship service in the church, Rev. Luther Markin had urged attendance at the Monroe County Sunday School convention, Wednesday and Thursday nights; and, also, the Reformation Sunday service next Sunday night. The first to be held in Stroudsburg and the second, in East Stroudsburg. The Junior Choir sang, Sunday morning, for the first since spring.

Moderate Drop Snaps Stock Market String

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP)—A moderate decline today snapped the stock market's string of seven straight daily advances.

Losses in key stocks ran to as much as 2 points, but here and there were gainers of a point or better.

Average Down

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped 90 cents to $169.80. The industrials were off $1.40 and the rails 90 cents. The utilities advanced 10 cents.

In the seven days of a rising market the AP average had gained $5.30. Today's fall still left the average $4.40 ahead of where it was at the close Oct. 13.

Trading was heavy at the opening today and gains of around a point made it look as if the market were headed for its eighth straight advance. Steels and aircraft were the centers of attention within the first hour. Trading slackened and the pattern became mixed. By early afternoon prices were definitely slipping. The downtrend became more pronounced late in the day.

Fifteen Highs

Of 1,149 issues traded, there were 367 advances and 507 declines. There were 15 new highs for the year and 17 new lows.

Trading volume totaled 1,950,000 shares compared with 1,820,000 yesterday.

The trend was lower on the American Stock Exchange in quiet trading. Volume totaled 690,000 690,000 shares compared with 740,000 yesterday.

Corporate bonds and U. S. Treasury obligations were mixed.

Scholarship Exams To Be Given Today

THE "MERIT" Scholarship Examination will be given this morning at East Stroudsburg Area High School.

Students slated to take the test are Barbara Barrow, Dorothy Goldy, Elaine Price and James Terrell. The test will be given from 8:45 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. in the high school library which will be closed to other students.

Part Of 50,000

The local students will be a few of the 50,000 selected high school seniors in 10,000 schools throughout the nation to take the tests—the first time they have been given. Out of this group an estimated 350 will win scholarships awarded by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, with headquarters in Evanston, Ill.

Three types of award are given. First is the regular National Merit Scholarship. The second is the Sears Foundation Merit Scholarship. The third is known as the Time-Life Merit Scholarship.

After today's exams, about 4,000 will "survive" the tests, officials estimate. These 4,000 will take another series of tests prepared by the corporation.

Dr. Pugh To Address Methodists

SUNDAY morning, at the eleven o'clock hour worship service, the guest preacher in the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church will be, Dr. A. Wesley Pugh. Dr. Pugh is a personal friend of the pastor, Rev. Harold C. Eaton and his predecessor in the village of Tajima, Fukushima-Ken, Japan.

Dr. Pugh is widely known in Methodist circles. He was district superintendent of the Fort Wayne District of the North Indiana Conference. In this capacity he gave inspiring leadership to more than ninety churches on his district. He is outstanding in his many activities in the life of the church in the Mid-West and is looked upon as a likely person to fill the office of bishop in Methodist connection.

At present Dr. Pugh is pastor of the First Methodist Church of Marion, Indiana, one of the strongest churches in that conference.

Dr. Pugh is in the east over this week in his connection as member of the advisory board of the commission on publications of the Methodist Church. The congregation is highly honored in the privilege of presenting him as the preacher in this service.

Who Was Spoiling Grandchildren While Grandma Capered In Houston?

The National Federation of Grandmother Clubs of America recently met in Houston, Tex. There were 1000 delegates from clubs in almost every state.

The slogan of the Federation is, "Love, Laugh and Have Fun." Fine.

But one question arises. Who pampered and spoiled all the grandchildren of the country while the Grandmas were kicking up their heels and otherwise making whoopee in Houston?

Ohio's Turnpike, Like So Many Fine Roads, Gets Early Baptism Of Death

It took just fifteen days from the October 1 opening of the new Ohio Turnpike for that superior highway to chalk up its first fatal accident which, it would appear, is a right good record.

The fatality was inevitable, of course, for no matter how much engineering brains and skill is combined to make a highway foolproof, there is no apparent decline in the number of fools who prove that there is nothing proof against their stupidity.

The first Ohio fatality resulted when a car struck an overpass abutment. The abutment obviously, did not strike the car. Whether the driver was sleepy or had poor perception or was just normally stupid is not important; the important fact is that he was an inevitable statistic in the wonderful new turnpike that runs all across Ohio between the Pennsylvania and Indiana borders.

Those who have studied the operation of the pioneer Pennsylvania Turnpike and the later ones such as that in New Jersey realize that no amount of study is going to eliminate completely the accidents caused by nothing more than the jerk at the wheel.

Cars are of higher power, of course, but they are built with strength and they have powerful brakes. The essentials of safe operation, however, cannot be built in by Detroit manufacturers. They can only be attained by increasingly severe regulations and legal restraint by the appointed officers.

We regret for the sake of Ohio that its fine turnpike should provide the site for the demise of a citizen, but we know as their turnpike officials know that the driver was only one of many. Until the law gets really tough on those who drive so stupidly, the death roll will continue.

George Sokolsky Says...

As Long As We Continue To Turn Our Cheek, We Get Swift Kicks From Reds

Cardinal Spellman, speaking at the Al Smith Memorial Dinner, revived the slogan of the Revolutionary War, "Don't Tread On Me." Those words appeared on an early American flag and symbolized the spirit of the very courageous people who founded this country as a separate nation of free men. They were not only free men in spirit but they were unfraid.

The facts of history disclose that those who are afraid in war often bring war upon themselves. If for no other reason than that everybody despises the coward and some like to kick him out of shoe levity. Surely the United States has, since 1945, been kicked at by Soviet Russia, by Red China and now by the Arabs. It has become a standing joke among the smaller nations that the best way to get American aid is to make war on the United States which helps its former foes and forgets its current friends.

The moral question as to whether it is a creeping cowardice or a philistine idealism which makes our country so soft to its enemies, the distant historian will be able to analyze more accurately than we can who live in this era of confused thinking. If some of it can be called thinking at all. Certainly Cardinal Spellman raised a moral standard when he revived the phrase,

"Don't Tread On Me." Secretary Dulles might hang this flag outside his window at Geneva.

The Geneva Spirit, so called, has proved to be something vaudevillian, and the Republics could well discard it before it becomes the funny-bone of the 1956 campaign. Already, it is of no value politically because Mr. Khrushchev has buried the spirit and all its ectoplasmic emanations. He proceeds with the "Cold War" as though Geneva had never occurred. Were President Eisenhower well, he would by now know fully that his remarkable manifestation of primitive Christian turning of the other cheek only convinced the Russians that the United States is afraid of them and therefore they are moving figuratively through the Dardanelles into the Eastern Mediterranean, a feat that neither the Romanovs nor Lenin nor Stalin could accomplish.

It has been Russian Foreign Policy to move forward wherever it could. Muraviev-Amursky had no problem across Siberia because there was no resistance and when the Treaty of Aigun (1858) was signed, Manchuria China was at low ebb. However, in the South, from Cathay to the Great Wall, the Russians never managed to get out of the Black Sea. Either the Turks or the British held them back. It was for that reason that the Crimean War was fought and won. Every school boy used to be taught, when men were proud of the history they made, Tennyson: "Half a league, half a league, Half a league onward

Into the valley of Death" etc. etc.

So Khrushchev managed it all by a smile. Perhaps the smile is mightier than the sword—an aphorism that Mme. Pompadour or any woman might have spoken. But as the Cardinal pointed out, what looks like a smile might be laughter, might be a belly-laugh at the great joke, the joke of putting one over on the wise guy. I am, of course, not quoting Cardinal Spellman's words; but that was the idea and I think it will turn out that he is right and that he has a better understanding of the Mona Lisa smile than many a man who has greater acquaintance with such dames—or politicians.

But now that little, tiny, inconspicuous Yemen, a footnote in the desert, takes up the attack upon us and our policies, it truly is to laugh, and yet, why should not Yemen get arms from the Kremlin and aid from the United States as long as we are willing to aid those who throw stones at us? The smart "Robert College Clique" in the State Department, the American friends of the Arabs, encourage the concept that the Arabs imitate Nehru who sends Krishna Menon to abuse and insult us, knowing that the pro-Indian element in the United States gives aid to those who floutate most against us. Chester Bowles and Harold Stassen lead the support in the United States of Nehru's anti-Americanism.

As long as we continue to turn the other cheek, there will be a big, swift kick coming from those who are not so noble or soft.

The Once Over —by H. I. Phillips

Book Of The Ages
This is National Bible Week. But the Bible has been the book of the day, book of the month, book of the year, and book of the ages, and proper respect for it can't be crowded into seven days. However, it is worth trying, for there has been no such beauty of thought and word and deed through the centuries. Here are found the golden tongues, the richest thoughts and the enduring messages. Every other book in your library is a pamphlet by an amateur writer with a faulty style, mediocre inspiration and "writers' cramp." In the Psalms of David and the Songs of Solomon is a radiant beauty that makes the books written by Pulitzer Prize and Book of the Month Club winners seem like juvenile scribbles on a reform school fence.

"... and the rose of Sharon and the lily of the valleys. As the lily among thorns, so is my love among the daughters. As the apple tree among the trees of the wood, so is the Beloved among my sons." ... "The Lord is my rock and my fortress and my deliverer; my God and my strength in whom I will trust; my buckler and the horn of my salvation and my high tower." ... "By thee I have run through a troop, and by my God have I leaped over a wall." ... "The Lord is my shepherd. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; He leadeth me beside still waters." Where is there greater beauty of thought and expression? And these are but samples!

What a solace a long-held family Bible is in the home! It's nice to have a new one, but it is through the pages of an old one that the abiding faith of a mother, father, grandmother and grandfather are reflected by the underlined passages, a scribbled word of approval on a margin and a thousand thumb-worn pages, each thumb-print seeming somehow still warm and guiding. Take down the family Bible and the reverence of your loved ones, deep in everlasting hills, blooms again, lighting the home once

Modern Living Rooms Tip Furniture Reshufflings

I am going to have to be more careful about lugging magazines home to read. There is no sense in trying to work after hours if it only compounds your difficulty by creating still more work.

Fortunately I was able to ditch the copy of Changing Times, so its article titled "It's Time to Rearrange the Living Room" has had only limited circulation at our place. I have read it and I'm the only one around there who's going to read it if I can stay on my toes.

I don't know why they print pieces like that. The thought that it's time to rearrange the living room comes up often enough by spontaneous combustion, without any suggestions from outsiders. Reshuffling furniture is a popular indoor sport," says CT.

"Hah! With whom, may I ask? With whom? Not that I don't know.

At our establishment whatever satisfaction there was in the novelty of different furniture arrangements played out about 15 years ago. There are only two ways the furniture can be arranged in our living room.

We have tried them both so often that there are piano ruts in the carpeting, and neither arrangement any longer can produce a spiritual lift that lasts more than 10 minutes.

If anybody insists on something completely new in the way of living room scenery we either have to lay in a whole new stock of furniture or hire some expert craftsmen to rearrange the windows and doors. Not to mention the fireplace and the hot-air registers.

Either approach would be drastic and would run into money—the kind of money that might necessitate a rearrangement of our entire pattern of living.

Besides, I like that furniture—I don't care what people say.

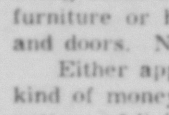

There was a time when we could have opened up a whole new range of furniture shuffling possibilities by getting rid of the piano and substituting maybe a xylophone or an accordion. But now the boys like to play the piano and I like to hear him.

I'm not so sure I'd like to hear him play the xylophone. And I don't like to hear anybody play the accordion—bar none.

So unless we want to keep on shuffling the piano back and forth along that same old groove we might just as well sit tight the way we are. Chopped-up wall space has us checkmated.

But an awful thought just struck me. It will never involve me, except over my dead body, but I can envision the time when improved heating, lighting and air-conditioning will make feasible living rooms without windows, fireplaces and registers—like some of the modern offices. Just yards and yards of almost uninterrupted wall space.

Heaven pity hapless husbands when that day comes. To save their backs they'll have to put all the furniture on wheels.

Robert S. Allen Reports
Dulles To Ask For Air Service Now In Russia

Washington, October 26—The U. S. is set to make another spectacular air proposal at the impending foreign ministers conference in Geneva.

As a direct follow-up of President Eisenhower's historic "open skies" plan for armaments inspection, Secretary of State Dulles will propose that regular air service be established between major centers of the West and East.

On the President's authorization, Dulles will announce the U. S. is prepared to exchange commercial air schedules with Russia.

The dramatic proposal will be made under Item Three of the party's agenda, which was agreed on at last summer's "summit" meeting. This particular subject deals with measures to ease East-West barriers.

Dulles is also empowered to urge establishment of a system under which scientists, educators, artists, builders, farmers, etc., can exchange visits.

He will specifically include atomic authorities.

All these proposals will be made with the approval of the Justice, Commerce, Labor, Agriculture, and Health, Education & Welfare Departments. Also the Civil Aeronautics Board, which favors the air plan. The Defense Department is not overly enthusiastic about this, but is not opposing it.

J. Edgar Hoover, famed FBI director, advised the project would not add to the internal security problems of the country.

He was expressly consulted before final decision was made.

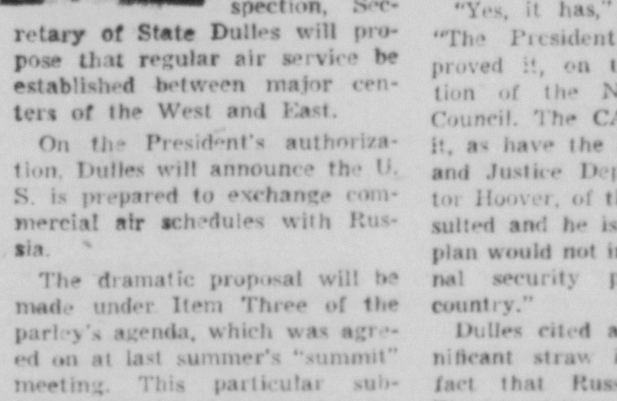

The Details—Secretary Dulles, at his meeting with bi-partisan leaders of Congress before flying to Europe, laid much emphasis on the hopes for achievement under Item Three of the agenda.

In fact, he hinted strongly these prospects are the best that can be hoped for from the conference.

Dulles warned the legislators not to be surprised if a deadlock develops on the first two items—disarmament and German unification. He said that depends on whether the "Soviet's" new look foreign policy is real or merely window dressing.

"But we feel there is a real chance to make some progress on easing East-West tensions," said Dulles. "In this area, positions are not so rigid and inflexible as they are on German unification and disarmament. We are going to propose a number of things: the ending of censorship of press and radio coverage from Russia, the lifting of restrictions on the distribution of American publications, and the jamming of the Voice of America."

"Above all, we are going to ask that U. S. carriers be permitted to fly direct to Soviet cities, and possibly some in the satellite countries. That will take quite a bit of negotiating, and won't happen right away. But we propose to find out how they react to the idea. That will be very revealing."

Senator Tom Hennings (D., Mo.) asked if the plan contemplates regular air flights. Dulles replied affirmatively.

"Has this been discussed with all the agencies concerned, such as the CAB?" continued Hennings.

"Yes, it has," declared Dulles. "The President personally approved it, on the recommendation of the National Security Council. The CAB has approved it, as have the State, Commerce and Justice Departments. Director Hoover, of the FBI, was consulted and he is of the view the plan would not increase the internal security problem of our country."

Dulles cited as a possible significant straw in the wind the fact that Russia has granted Finnish airlines the right to fly to Moscow.

Senator Mike Mansfield (D., Mont.) inquired about what is being done to avert a stalemate at the party, particularly on German unification.

"We have several alternative proposals," replied Dulles. "They are still tentative, because the details have yet to be worked out with the British, French and Germans. One of these alternatives is aimed at meeting a move we expect the Russians will make at the start; that the satellite East German government be represented at Geneva. We're prepared to counter with a proposal that the representatives of both East and West Germany be on hand for consultations, but not be included in the conference, as such."

Senator Walter George (D., Ga.), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, asked, "Is that acceptable to Chancellor Adenauer?"

"The West German government will have a delegation in Geneva and has no objections to our plan," replied Dulles. "They are eager to help in any way they can to get some tangible results."

Two attempts by Representative John Taber (R., N. Y.), former chairman of the powerful Ways and Means Committee, to bring on Far Eastern matters, got nowhere. Both times, Dulles politely but firmly sidestepped, particularly when Taber tried to inject Formosa into the discussion.

Dulles remarked he would take that up later, but never did.

Mirror of Time —by C. H. Westbrook

New York — The autumn days, Chinatown lies sleepy and quiet in the pale sun that drifts streetward through the rustling and dissipated pillars and tracks of the abandoned Third Avenue El. Occasionally a noisy drunk from the east boundary of the Bowery finds his way into the Oriental section, but by and large it now is a quiet, almost silent community. Whenever I go through it, past the little curio shops and the chop suey joints I marvel at how a place can change; almost suddenly, from one of violence and bloodshed into one of comparatively tranquility.

Actually, it hardly has been three decades since the tong wars ended in Chinatown. For more than 25 years, staged in the tiny, winding downtown streets with the cloying fumes of opium mingling with the smoke from guns, they made the Chinese community a virtual mysterious abattoir. And I suppose most of the violence stemmed from the mind and soul of a stranger man called Mock Duck.

The strangest casualty in the wars, I guess, was Ah Hoon. He was a Chinese comedian and member of the On Leongs, who was so unwise as to needle the Hip Sings from the stage of the Chinese theater, situated at the "Bloody Angle"—a section of Doyers street in which it is believed more men have been murdered than at any other place of like area in the world. The Hip Sings told him flatly he would be murdered and informed him of the exact night.

That night, Ah Hoon nervously performed at the theater, and then went home, escorted by police. On Leong hatchet men, all in shirts of mail, guarded the doorways of his house all night. In the morning, Ah Hoon was found dead in his locked bedroom. The Hip Sings had lowered a boatswain's chair from the roof until one of their gunmen had been opposite Ah Hoon's window, from where he had aimed and fired.

After Mock Duck went to prison, the tong wars cooled down a bit, but they lasted until the mid-Twenties, branching into the Bronx and Brooklyn from Chinatown.

Today, there are no—at least not visible—tong wars in Chinatown. Life there is much duller, but all in all, better.

Mock Duck appeared in Chinatown at the turn of the century. Until that time, Tom Lee was the unofficial boss of the area. A huge man who wore the customary shirt of chain mail affected by such men who lived precariously in such times, Lee was head of the On Leong tong. What this amounted to, actually, was control of the huge and busy gambling industry in Chinatown. There was another tong, Hip Sing, but it got only crumbs. The On Leongs ran things, and Tom Lee, who also was a New York deputy sheriff—ran the On Leongs.

Until 1893, the title of envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary was the highest title given any U.S. diplomatic representative.

Hunt Safely Week Now Under Way

—by H. G. Heller

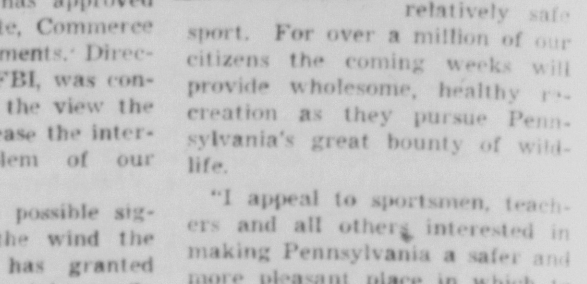

The week of October 21th to 27th is Hunt Safely Week in Pennsylvania, so proclaimed by the Honorable George M. Leader, Governor of the Commonwealth. In his proclamation the Governor said, "... I am mindful of the fact that hunting is a relatively safe sport. For over a million of our citizens the coming weeks will provide wholesome, healthy recreation as they pursue Pennsylvania's great bounty of wildlife.

"I appeal to sportsmen, teachers and all others interested in making Pennsylvania a safer and more pleasant place in which to work and play to teach proper gun handling and safe hunting methods. The message which Hunt Safely Week can bring to all our people should center around how firearms accidents are caused and how they can be prevented. ... The great majority of these mishaps can be avoided. ... hunting accidents do not just happen—they are caused. ... A second of carelessness may mean a lifetime of regret."

Anyone who has studied the causes of hunter casualties knows the preventive is knowledge of the firearm used and the application of common sense rules of safety. But the youngster often does not know about firearms. Obviously, the way to handle the inevitable meeting of boy and gun is to arrange it through gun handling courses or dad-on training teams. The trained teenager out hunting accompanied by an adult experiences a wonderful association. But the boy untrained in firearms safety and "out on his own" may find himself in a dangerous situation.

However, outdoors too sometimes do foolishly things, and casualty records indicate there are three principal causes why people fall victims to hunters' guns. One is the impulsive act under the excitement of the hunt; another is lack of firearms knowledge and failure to realize the gun's lethal possibilities; and high on the list is greed for game or the impression hunting prowess must be proved. Either of the latter sometimes causes shooting at sound or obscured objects, or shooting without regard for other humans in line of fire.

It all boils down to: 1. Know your weapons. 2. Put a brake on impulses and emotions while hunting. 3. Make sure you shoot at legal game plainly visible. 4. Realize a piece of game really has little value, whereas human life is priceless.

My New York —by Mel Heimer

New York — The autumn days, Chinatown lies sleepy and quiet in the pale sun that drifts streetward through the rustling and dissipated pillars and tracks of the abandoned Third Avenue El. Occasionally a noisy drunk from the east boundary of the Bowery finds his way into the Oriental section, but by and large it now is a quiet, almost silent community. Whenever I go through it, past the little curio shops and the chop suey joints I marvel at how a place can change; almost suddenly, from one of violence and bloodshed into one of comparatively tranquility.

Red Cross Spent $334,596.46 Outside East Boro Region

Consolidate Operations In Few Weeks

RED CROSS has spent $334,596.46 to date in emergency and rehabilitation work in the Stroudsburg area, which includes Barrett Township, Anasimunk, Tannersville and Delaware Water Gap.

This was announced last night by Dan Bachman, National Red Cross representative, at the final meeting of the Stroudsburg advisory committee to the relief organization.

506 Cases

Bachman reported that Red Cross has handled 506 cases here, and further disclosed that the Stroudsburg disaster office will be closed within the next two weeks. After that date, all disaster operations will be consolidated, most likely in the Waring Building in East Stroudsburg.

However, Bachman emphasized that Red Cross personnel will remain in the area "for several months to come."

Figures released at the meeting indicated that $57,450.81 was expended in emergency assistance and mass care, and $277,145.65 has been spent in rehabilitation, bringing total expenditures to date to $334,596.46.

Richard Suydam, Red Cross building advisor, also was present last night and disclosed that 91 contracts have been let in the Stroudsburg area and 12 of these have been completed and inspected.

Contracts to $10,000.

The contracts range to somewhat in excess of $800 to $10,000. A statistical summary of Red Cross work throughout the six-state area affected by the flood was also presented to the advisory group.

The summary showed that 4,306 family applications for assistance had been received in Pennsylvania as of Oct. 22. And 4,308 cases have thus far been closed.

Monroe CD Police Big; Needs More

SOME 150 PERSONS last night attended a county-wide Civil Defense auxiliary police rally in the East Stroudsburg Junior High School auditorium.

Maj. William D. Plummer, county auxiliary police coordinator, told the gathering that Monroe County has one of the largest C-D police groups in the State, but still needs many more enrollees and better trained personnel.

Another speaker was Harold W. Pierce of the State Public Service Institute, Harrisburg, who noted that the most important step in handling any emergency takes place long before the disaster strikes.

"The preparations made in anticipation of an emergency," said Pierce, "constitutes the most important step which can be taken to meet any situation."

Training classes.

Pierce said 205 police training classes were held throughout the State last year. He disclosed allocations have not yet been made to carry on the program this year.

The training program, he continued, is sponsored by the Public Service Institute to train personnel for various specialized services, in addition to police work. The purpose of the institute is to aid local governments to better serve in times of emergency.

The group also heard from Capt. John R. Dodson, State auxiliary police coordinator, who extended the compliments of top State C-D officials to Monroe County for its efficient disaster work.

Dodson said the mop-up work in this county was completed four weeks earlier than it was in a similar emergency of the past.

Paul M. Crown, county executive C-D director, said after the meeting that the dates for police training classes in this county will be arranged as soon as allocations have been made to finance the instruction for this coming year.

Township and zonal directors have been asked to compile lists of prospective enrollees, Crown said.

Several of those attending the meeting pledged to donate blood to the Red Cross on Nov. 8.

County TB Society Gave X-Rays To 114 Persons

MONROE COUNTY TUBERCULOSIS and Health Society provided free X-rays for 114 persons during October.

This was the gist of a report on chest X-rays given by Mrs. Estelle Fleming, executive secretary of the Society at a meeting last night.

Mrs. Fleming said the total included: 98 Stroudsburg High School athletes; nine foodhandlers and seven persons X-rayed on request of physicians.

Mrs. Alexander Coles, vice president, presided at the meeting in the absence of Horace G. Heller, president of the Society.

Seal Letters

Mrs. Fleming said letters containing Christmas seals will be delivered to homes in Monroe County on or about Nov. 16. During the past two weeks the envelopes have been stuffed and prepared by Girl Scouts and Brownies from several communities, Mrs. Fleming said.

Leaders taking part in this phase of the seal campaign included the following, Mrs. Fleming said:

Girl Scouts—Mrs. Chrissy Moseller, Brodheadsville; Mrs. Helen Teeter, Mrs. George Wakefield and Mrs. Richard Hagmeyer, all of Stroudsburg troops; Mrs. Keturah Hartman and Mrs. Nina Warner, Tannersville.

Brownies—Mrs. Michael Kostna, Stroudsburg; Mrs. Jack LeBar, Delaware Water Gap; Mrs. Walter Werkheiser, Clearview; Mrs. Nina Gravel, Barrett.

Mrs. Fleming reported that follow-up activity on X-rays taken during the summer is progressing well.

Drexel Tests Now Slated

DREXEL INSTITUTE tests will be given to 45 juniors at East Stroudsburg Area High School on Thursday from 8:45 a.m. to 1:45 p.m.

Tests will be given in the school library. Miss Nancy Thomsen will be in charge of administering the tests for the institute with the aid of high school officials. The library will be closed during this period.

State Cancer Society To Meet Here

POCONO MANOR — The Pennsylvania Division of the American Cancer Society will hold its 11th annual meeting and training session here beginning Friday at 2:30 p.m.

Principal speaker on the two-day program will be Dr. Charles Cameron, medical and scientific director of the American Cancer Society. Dr. Cameron's address will be heard at 6:30 p.m. Friday at a dinner meeting.

Sectional meetings — on service, education and the annual Cancer Crusade — will begin at 3 p.m. Friday. These sessions will continue Saturday morning at 9:30, ending at 11:30 a.m.

Saturday Program

Saturday's program is designed, primarily, for those professionally concerned with cancer as a disease, its cause, treatment and possible cure. It will include kinescopes on cancer detection and lectures on the surgical aspects of cancer, radiotherapy, hormonal therapy, chemotherapy, psychiatric implications of cancer and promotional material to be used in acquainting the public with the nature of the disease.

Dr. Joseph Viglione, president of the Monroe County Unit of the ACS will lead the local delegation attending the meeting.

Zacharias Rites Are Conducted

FUNERAL SERVICES for the late Mrs. Augusta Zacharias, East Stroudsburg, were held at 10:30 a.m. yesterday at Lanterman funeral home.

Rev. Norman R. Savage officiated. Interment was made in Stroudsburg Cemetery. Pallbearers were Russell Cramer, Bernard Peters, James Fisher, Berne LeBar, Newton Taylor and Collins Van Gorden.

Burrows Will Attend Meeting

RALPH O. BURROWS, East Stroudsburg Area High School principal, will attend a conference of the Pennsylvania Branch of the National Association of Secondary School Principals at Harrisburg on Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

Burrows is a member of the nominating committee of the group. Reports and workshop sessions will be held both days during which principals will exchange ideas on secondary education and compare notes on new methods of administration in schools.

Greene-Dreher Fair Fate To Be Decided Thursday By Association Members

NEWFOUNDLAND — The fate of the Greene-Dreher Fair, one of the oldest community agricultural exhibitions in Pennsylvania, will be decided at a meeting of the association in the Greene-Dreher-Sterling school, Thursday, Nov. 3 at 8 p.m.

Two alternatives are offered in an announcement of meeting sent to all members of the association by Henry Botjer, secretary. They are:

1. To revive the fair in 1956. It had been suspended this year after having been in existence for over 38 years.

2. To disband the organization and liquidate the association's assets.

Indifference

Suspension of the fair, which began as a school event and grew into a community project that was attended by thousands annually, was the result of apparent indifference on the part of many local residents to assist in staging the affair. Oddly enough, the flood waters of August 18-19 would have prevented the 39th renewal of the event as all except one of the association's buildings were swept away and the grounds covered by a foot of mud.

Liquidation of the association would probably involve the transfer of real estate to the local school district, which now uses the property as a playground. Cash assets of over $2,000 would also have to be disposed of.

Avoid Use Of Soap, Water On Oak Floors

IN CARING for oak floors, remember that they're somewhat like the typical American boy—rugged and durable, but averse to being scrubbed with soap and water.

Wax-Base Cleaner
That's the advice of floor maintenance specialists, who say the modern, easy way to freshen up oak floors and keep them sparkling is to use a wax-base cleaner.

Such preparations, which come in liquid form, are easy to apply with a soft cloth or a long-handled applicator. They rid the floors of dirt and ordinary spots, leaving a protective wax film.

Two basic types are available: One contains about three times as much wax as the other. When the former type is employed, a separate coating of wax afterward usually is unnecessary.

Raised Grain
Soap-and-water scrubbing, according to the experts, tends to raise the wood grain and produce a rough surface. If repeated often it may also mar the finish.

Moreover, it calls for substantial amounts of "elbow grease," whereas the wax-base cleaner method makes oak floor upkeep a relatively simple chore.

Freezers Must Fit Location

IN PLANNING where to put your freezer, you may be surprised to learn that the choice of size and type of machine may be dictated by the limitations in respect to location.

If a crooked hallway must be negotiated, a long, chest freezer may be out of the question. If the basement stairs have a sharp turn at the top, it may be impossible to move anything but the smallest freezer down the stairway.

The utility room may be ideal, but if space is inadequate, the freezer may have to be put somewhere else, or else ordered to fit the space.

Junior's Room Water Bubbler Handy Gadget

THE KIDS count, too, with plumbing fixture designers, according to the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau, Chicago.

One of the most interesting of the new plumbing fixtures is a countertop sink with twin fittings—a gooseneck faucet and a bubbler, or drinking fountain.

The fixture currently is popular in classrooms, but the home owner, handy with tools, will find it a fairly simple project to build this sink into a desk for a son or daughter's bedroom, the bureau said.

If the bedroom is next to the bathroom, the installation can be made economically by placing the sink-desk combination against the wall between the rooms so that the sink can share the water supply and waste piping with one of the bathroom fixtures.

Paint Remover Hints Given

MANY paint-and-varnish-removers contain wax which thickens the remover and forms a film on its surface. The wax film retards the evaporation of the liquids, giving them more time to soften the paint or varnish. Let the remover stand until the finish begins to wrinkle. That's usually from 10 to 20 minutes. Then scrape off the old coating with a broad knife and deposit it in a metal can for disposal.

If any trace of the old finish remains, apply another coat of remover and rub the surface with coarse steel wool, working with the grain. When your old coating is completely removed, wash off any wax residue that remains with turpentine, benzine or alcohol.

China Will Fade

USING STRONG alkaline soaps or extremely hot water in washing china will fade out goldband or gilt decorations.

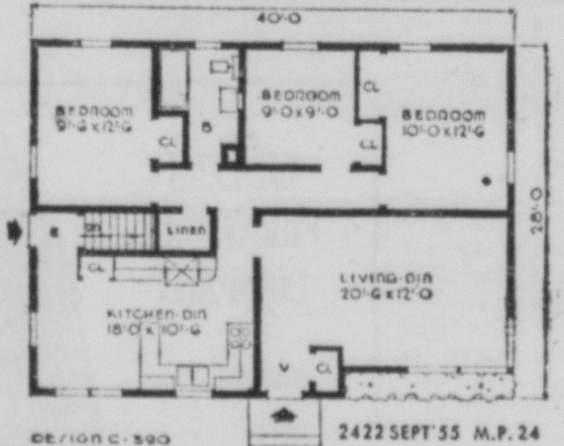

Don't Delay

AS SOON as a painting session is finished, always clean your brush, roller or spray gun thoroughly with the proper solvent.

Build Fence Inside Line To Avoid Possible Damages

GOING TO FENCE in your yard? You'd better be sure to erect that fence on your side of the property line, if you want to avoid the possibility of serious trouble.

Many home owners believe that they can build a fence right on the property line. Actually, the only time this can be done is when two or more neighbors build a fence together, and share the construction and maintenance costs.

Inside Line
Otherwise, divisionary fences must be located inside the property line, entirely on the owner's own property.

If a neighbor should object, faulty placement of a fence can prove expensive to you, if you have to dismantle, then re-erect it at a new location.

Damages?
In some cases, it might even make you liable for damages.

To play safe, you should check the exact position of your property line at the appropriate local office before beginning actual construction.

Mirror Panels Attach To Doors

IT'S EASIER than you think to fix the one thing that's wrong with your bedroom. It really isn't necessary to go without a full length mirror just because the builder didn't install one, and those new clothes are more fun if you can see yourself as others see you, first.

The stores have plate-glass mirror in ready-made panels that attach to a door easily by your own efforts with no more tools than a screw driver, and in sizes to fit different doors.

Widths from 16 to 24 inches are 68 inches long, come with good looking clips and installment instructions.

Modern Sinks Must Be Properly Cleaned To Help Withstand Damage

MODERN KITCHEN sinks can "take it" but there's a limit to what they can take. The two most common causes of damage are abuse and improper cleaning.

For example, the Plumbing Fixture Manufacturers Association explains, the gleaming surface of the sink may be marred by scratches caused by dragging and scraping pots and pans over it.

Chip Enamel
The bottoms of cooking utensils contains thousands of irregularities and dirt particles which in time cause minute scratches that are impossible to remove. Dropping heavy objects into a sink also may chip the enamel.

Virtually all kitchen sinks now being manufactured are acid resistant but even the toughest enamel is not impervious to stains resulting from prolonged exposure to fruit and vegetable acids. And often these stains are difficult to remove.

Rinse Often
The best policy is to avoid letting vegetables or fruits stand on an enamel surface for any length of time. And when they are removed, the area should be rinsed thoroughly with clean water.

If there are any photography addicts in the house, keep them away from the plumbing fixtures. Developing solutions contain strong chemicals which react with the surfaces of fixtures to form a dark, permanent stain.

Keep Rods Clean

CURTAIN rods should be wiped with a sudsy cloth before rehanging freshly laundered curtains.

YMCA Club Inductions Tonight

A JOINT induction ceremony for Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs in the county will be held at 7:30 tonight at the YMCA building in Stroudsburg.

The ceremony officially brings new members into the two groups. The "Y" program, conducted in association with schools, is one of the largest in the county.

The key purpose of the organizations is "to create, maintain and extend throughout the home, school and community, the high standards of Christian character."

Parents Invited

Parents are invited to attend the ceremony as well as all other interested residents of the county. A reception will be held following the ceremony. Refreshments will be served.

Groups taking part will be the Stroudsburg Tri-Hi-Y and the Hi-Y and the Barrett Tri-Hi-Y. East Stroudsburg Tri-Hi-Y has already conducted its induction program in a club meeting earlier this month, but members of this group are specifically invited to attend tonight's program as visitors if it is possible.

Philadelphia Mayoralty Race Heads For Homestretch

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25 (AP)—Republican neophyte Thacher Longstreth and campaign-hardened Democrat Richardson Dilworth entered the homestretch phase of their mayoralty race today with apparent voter apathy reflected in one of the smallest registrations in recent Philadelphia history.

The Philadelphia Registration Bureau today released figures which showed 549,936 Republicans, 409,043 Democrats and 20,881 members of other parties duly entered for voting on Nov. 8. It marked one of the few times in any recent general election that less than one million Philadelphians had registered.

Longstreth, 35, a former advertising executive, continued walking up and down the streets of Philadelphia, introducing himself to passersby, shaking hands and asking for support. On television and radio he continued speeches he says are designed to tell "the shortcomings of the Mayor Joseph C. Clark administration."

Dilworth, feeling he is firmly in command of the campaign, continued a drive which he promised recently would be "all sweetness and light." He and Clark, a long-time political ally who teamed to oust the Republicans from the top City Hall posts of mayor and district attorney in 1951, hammered at Longstreth's political inexperience and the accomplishments of their administration in street-corner appearances, luncheons and television dates.

Accountants Meeting In Allentown

MORE THAN 140 Lehigh Valley Chapter of Cost Accountants members attended a meeting recently in Allentown.

Local accountants attending the meeting were William Moore, William Curnow, Michael Chaffler, Donald Albertson and Elwood German.

Various types of salary incentive plans were discussed. Among these, speakers noted, are wage increases, bonuses, incentive pay plans and grants. Such plans increase the workers' desire to put more into his job, the members pointed out, but plans should include something more than money alone.

Just as important, the chapter said, is the workers' feeling of self respect, security and the feeling of being appreciated.

About a billion of the world's people do not have enough food to avoid chronic hunger, says the Population Reference Bureau.

School Bus Passer Fined

A PHILADELPHIA resident has been fined $20 and costs for passing a school bus which had stopped on Route 611 at White Stone Corners on Oct. 18th.

Reginald P. Yoner pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Ruth Miller in Stroud Township after a complaint was made against him by William Johnson, a driver for the Stroud Union School District.

Mrs. Miller said authorities are cracking down on such violations. She noted that about eight similar cases are now pending before her, and all will be prosecuted.

Can't Afford Garage, Tickets

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP)—Bunny O'Connell, 21, explained in Traffic Court that what with her meager income, she couldn't afford to garage the nifty, white foreign-made car a boy friend gave her.

So the judge didn't insist that she pay her accumulated $1,900 in overtime parking fines all at once, or go to jail for 190 days. He is letting her pay it off at $30 a week, now that she has what her lawyer termed a promisingly "lucrative" job.

Unarmed Cop Disarms Boy With Shotgun

READING, Pa., Oct. 25 (AP)—A youth armed with a shotgun barricaded himself in his sister's home today and held police at bay for four hours today, then surrendered to a brave detective who had entered the building without a weapon.

The siege began when Dets. Raymond Kastrak and Robert McMullen went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fricker in downtown Reading to pick up Mrs. Fricker's brother, Frederick E. Miller, 20, sought for questioning in a series of burglaries and automobile thefts.

Young Miller came out of his bedroom with a loaded 16-gauge shotgun and forced the two detectives to flee over a rear iron fence, cutting their hands.

Other police converged on the scene, among them Det. Charles S. Wade.

Wade persuaded Miller to let him enter the house, but only after the detective had handed over his pistol to another policeman. For three hours, Wade and Miller carried on a heated conversation, most of the time with the shotgun at Wade's chest.

Wade eventually persuaded Miller to eat a sandwich and drink coffee. Mrs. Fricker brought upstairs, then took the shotgun as Miller handed it over, and the pair walked outside.

Only in Ford...Y-8 power

After 23 years of building V-8's, after building more V-8's than all other makers combined, Ford now introduces the new 202-h.p. Thunderbird Y-8*—the successor to the conventional V-8. Whether you drive in mountains, on plains, or through city streets, instant-acting Y-8 power makes all your driving more fun! Also, this new Ford engine has a deep, solidly-built block. As a result, it's a quieter, smoother-running engine with a far greater life expectancy.

Only in Ford...Thunderbird styling

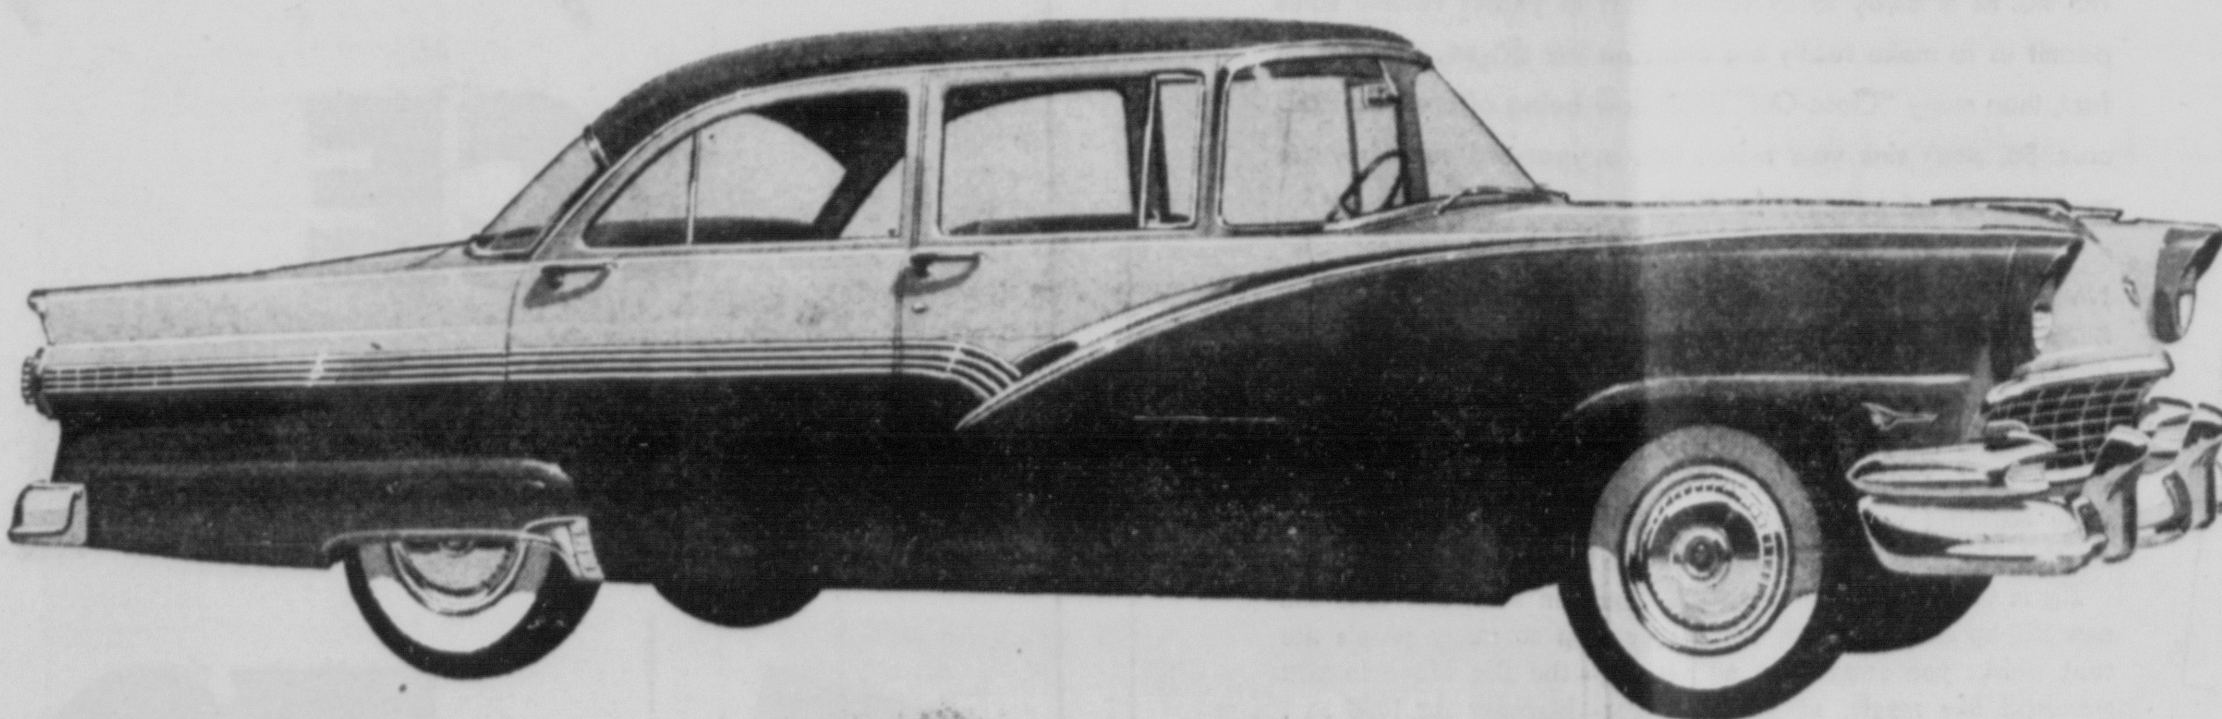

All 18 of the new '56 Ford models are styled like the Thunderbird—America's most desired dream car! Like the Thunderbird, Ford has hooded headlights, jet-like taillights, a classic lattice-type front grille, and low-to-the-road stance. To match this modern exterior, Ford has created an interior décor that's right up to the last minute. You'll find glamorous upholstery fabrics (combinations including nylons, woven plastics, and vinyls) which are the textile industry's newest and proudest creations. You must see them.

Only in Ford...Lifeguard Design

Ford for '56 makes the first major contribution to driver and passenger safety in accidents: Lifeguard Design. It's a new, exclusive family of Ford safety features. For example, Ford's new deep-center steering wheel acts as a cushion on impact—and Ford's new double-grip door latches give added protection against doors springing open. You can have optional seat belts and special optional padding for the control panel and sun visors. Put your family in Ford. You'll be thankful you did.

Modern Minutemen Movie To Show Civil Air Patrol Work

"MODERN MINUTEMEN," a short motion picture dealing with the work of the Civil Air Patrol, will be shown at the Sherman Theater today through Saturday.

Capt. William A. Bechtel, CAP group commander, said a CAP air rescue truck will be stationed outside the theater. And, in the lobby, organizational equipment will be on display.

Information concerning the CAP will be passed out to moviegoers, Bechtel said.

The Universal - International short subject will be presented during each show, which will feature Jane Wyman and Charlton Heston in "Lucy Gallant."

CAP activities here have expanded considerably under Bechtel's guidance. The unit came into "its own" during the Aug. 18-19 flood and has participated in some air-ground search work, as well as several training demonstrations in this region since that time.

New Giveaway Program Plans

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP)—The American Broadcasting Co. reportedly has three giveaway shows under consideration to compete with those on other networks. One would offer as much as $100,000 in cash if the contestant picks the right one from among 30 or 40 small boxes. Another would offer a stake in a producing oil well, while the third, taking a long-range view, would award a lifetime income of between $200 and $300 a month.

Company M Meeting Held In Scranton

MEMBERS OF "M" Company, 3rd Bat., 313th Infantry Regiment, attended a meeting at the USAR Armory in Scranton on Monday night.

This meeting was one of two held every quarter at the Scranton Armory for training and administrative purposes. All other meetings of the unit are held at the East Stroudsburg High School every Monday night.

Weapons Talk

Lt. John Farber of the Scranton unit gave interesting instruction on some of the infantry weapons used by winners of the Congressional Medal of Honor, naming the 30 caliber machine gun as the weapon used most often by those given the award.

Records of the unit were brought up to date and members of the unit not having their winter issue of clothing were supplied before returning to Stroudsburg.

Ace-Mutchler Wedding At Bushkill

Bushkill—Miss Joan Mutchler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dickson, of Dingmans Ferry, became the bride of Henry Ace Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ace, of Bushkill, on Saturday at 2:30 p.m., at the Dutch Reformed Church.

Rev. John H. Lackey, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony.

The couple were attended by Miss Edna Ace, sister of the bridegroom, and William Harris.

The bride wore a powder blue wool suit with navy blue accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Her maid of honor wore a grey wool tweed with black accessories and a yellow rosebud corsage.

Both young people are graduates of the East Stroudsburg High School, the bride from the class of '55 and the groom the class of '52. Mrs. Ace is employed at the L. E. DePue Gas Service in Bushkill and Mr. Ace is an employee of Pocono Fabricators in East Stroudsburg.

The couple are making their home in an apartment at Mrs. Ora Scheller's building on Bushkill Falls Road.

Portland Club To Take Part In Co. Meet

Portland—Members and guests of the Portland Woman's Club were entertained last week at the annual Men's Night program held in the social room of the Portland Baptist Church by Arnold M. Moyer, of Allentown. Theme was "Musical Pictures."

Mrs. William Smith, president, announced the county federation meeting to be held Wednesday, October 26, beginning at 2 p.m. in the Bethlehem YWCA. The club also accepted invitations to meet with the Pen Argyl Senior Club on November 7 and the Bangor Club on November 14.

The next Portland club meeting will be held November 15 when a Bangor jewelry store will present a program on "Place Settings."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Raymond Beck, chairman; Mrs. Raymond Jewell, Mrs. Otto Evans, Mrs. Blair Rusing, Mrs. Harry Michael, Mrs. Lulu Ott, Mrs. Michael Pawloff and Mrs. Horace Rusing.

Womans Guild Makes Plans For The Holidays

The Woman's Guild of Grace Lutheran Church met last night with 33 members present in the social rooms. The guild decided to hold a cookie sale on December 17 at Cleveland's store, and to have the annual Christmas party for families, including the children.

The group made cancer dressings after the meeting, and refreshments were served. Mrs. Willard Miller's team is leading in the attendance contest.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Many organizations have tried many different systems for aiding flood victims among their own members, and each of them have discovered that it's not as easy as it might seem to distribute either large or small amounts of money equitably.

Many an executive board meeting has gone on into the wee hours hashing and re-hashing who suffered most from what and which one needed the money most.

The only suggestion which has met with almost unanimous approval has been to pay all or part of a flood victim's dues, regardless of the amount of damage suffered.

The ideal solution, on which everyone is agreed, is that the best thing of all would be to go back to August and have it not happen at all. If we only could.

Early August seems particularly enticing in view of the snow that covered the cars coming down from the mountains yesterday morning—the chill that swept through the windows, still innocent of storm winds.

Things being as they are, however, it behooves us to go on from here, and the matter of flood relief has been pretty nearly settled one way or another. Except, of course, for the mountains of clothes which are still stacked high in lodge room and closet. They're going to keep on being problems for some time to come.

Mr. and Mrs. George K. Rusk

George Rusk Married In Franklin, N. J.

Miss Marion Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jacobs of Franklin Ave., Franklin, N. J., and George K. Rusk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Rusk Sr., of 610 Phillips St., Stroudsburg, were married on October 15, at 3:30 p.m. in Franklin.

The ceremony was performed in the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Franklin by Rev. Stephen Dabkowski.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lilac suit with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Donald Elston, also of Franklin. As matron-of-honor, Mrs. Elston wore a grey suit with navy accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

William Monroe, of Franklin served as best man.

The bride's mother wore a slate blue suit with a corsage of aqua carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue suit with a pink carnation corsage.

A reception for the immediate families was held at Sparta Inn, Sparta, N. J., before the newlyweds left for a trip to the New England States, curtailed somewhat by the flood.

The bride is a graduate of Franklin High School and is bookkeeper at the Sussex County Trust Co. in Franklin. The bridegroom was graduated from Stroudsburg High School in 1941 and from Lafayette College, Easton. As a mining engineer he is employed by the New Jersey Zinc Co., Franklin, N. J. He served in the Marine Air Wing during World War II.

Mr. and Mrs. Rusk will make their home on Franklin Ave., Franklin, N. J.

Y-Gradale Hears Paris Conf. Report

Members of the local Y-Gradale heard a first hand account of the World Centennial of the YMCA in Paris last summer from their very own delegate, Mrs. Russell Scheller, who is also state president of the organizations.

Attending the Centennial Conference were 10,000 members and friends of the YMCA representing 70 countries, she reported. They represented every race, many creeds and various social, economic and political views.

The conference, she said, was a living demonstration of its 100-year statement of objectives and theme "That They May All Be One."

Among the distinguished speakers she heard was Sir Douglas Copeland, high commissioner for Australia in Canada; Dr. Robert Bildeheimer, associate general secretary of the World Council of Churches; Rev. Dr. D. T. Niles, of Ceylon and Dr. Paul Limbert, secretary of the World Alliance of the YMCA.

The actual work of the conference was accomplished through varied work groups. During the general conference session, simultaneous translation was made through the use of head sets similar to those used at the United Nations.

Mrs. Scheller herself made a recommendation in her work group which was adopted by the World Centennial Recommendation Committee.

"That as a world wide Christian Fellowship, the YMCA should concern itself fully and without reserve with the promotion of international understanding, the easing of tension, the abolition of war and the establishment of World Peace."

The closing rally, Mrs. Scheller felt, was the highlight of the conference. It was produced by Ralph Reader who was also responsible for the Coronation Ceremony of Queen Elizabeth. Representatives from every country participated and the rally closed with the entire conference repeating the Lord's Prayer, each in his own language.

Mrs. Scheller's report followed the regular business meeting of the organization. Mrs. Florence Luckey presided. Plans were made for a bake sale to be held at Wyckoff's on November 4. The club also chose October 31 as the date to fold Christmas seals at the TB office in their yearly project.

Mrs. Luckey also announced that donations had been received from Gradale chapters in Montrose, Taramum and Boyertown for flood relief. The money was turned over to the Salvation Army, along with previous donations, to be used for Christmas gifts for needy flood victims. Mrs. Pat Dean introduced the speaker.

Senior Girl Scouts To Survey Needs For Volunteers

Senior Girl Scout Troop 36, Stroudsburg, were advised to survey the welfare agencies in Monroe County to obtain more information about their work in the community and whether or not they could use the volunteer services of the Senior Scouts.

Mrs. Estelle Fleming, executive director of the Tuberculosis Society, was their speaker, and assisted them in setting up a survey program for the various agencies.

Mrs. Thomas Knepp who is in charge of the troop calendar sales was present. Plans were made for a troop masquerade party to be held October 31 at the home of Elsie Cohen, 200 North Fifth St., Stroudsburg at 7 p.m.

The troop also planned to hold a swim party at the YMCA the first Tuesday of each month beginning November 1, between 6 and 7 p.m.

Members present were: Beryl Godshall, Christine Clark, Jeanette Munson, Jean Igler, Jackie Renninger, Judy Kohn, Judith Fisher, Lorraine Edinger, Mary Beth Knepp, Dorothy May, Barbara Phillips, Ellen Williams, Sandra Mader, Joan Lake, Carole Dildine, Mary Ann Jennings. Leaders present were Mrs. Richard Hagmayer, Miss Dorothy Butz and Miss Jean Smith.

Mr. Ley attended the Tobyhanna Township High School and served for some time in the U. S. Air Force. He is associated in business at Pocono Pines with his mother.

No date has been announced for the wedding.

National POA Officers To Consider Flood

Camp No. 289, Patriotic Order of Americans, will hold a very special meeting on Thursday at 8 p.m. in the P. O. S. of A. Hall, 22 South Sixth St., Stroudsburg.

The National Past President, Fleta Crawley, is going to be present as well as many other national and state officers. This special meeting involves the local camp's many flood victims.

Mrs. Crawley has earned a large sum of money since the disastrous Diane Flood struck the Stroudsburgs and her one desire is to be able to present her gift to each one personally. Other gifts are also to be presented.

A large group is urged by the president, Eunice Fenner, in appreciation for the many kind deeds being done for Camp No. 289's flood victims. Officers are requested to wear long white dresses.

There will be a covered dish supper served at the close of this very special meeting.

The regular meeting of the camp was held last week, when it was reported that the Kresgeville Camp had presented Camp 289 with many articles of clothing and household articles for its flood victims.

Camp 289 presented each flood victim with a check and a receipt for three-months dues in the order.

During the meeting, Reta Nolt and Martha Landis, representing the Coopersburg P.O. of A. presented a quilt, hand-made by its members, to be used for the nine members of Camp 289 who suffered great loss in the flood.

In all 14 members of the camp lost belongings in the flood, although in the case of the nine the loss was heavier.

Pocono Co-op Parents Have Big Attendance

A record crowd of 32 mothers and fathers of nursery school children attended the orientation and social meeting of the Pocono Playschool Co-op on October 20 at the home of William Brown, Bryant St., South Stroudsburg.

Edward Telling, president, explained the origin and workings of the Pocono Playschool Co-op and its membership in the County Council of the PTA. Since the Playschool is a non-profit cooperative nursery school, he emphasized the need of all members working together for its success.

Other officers include Robert Bixler, vice president; Jane Hobbs, secretary; Edith Jacobson, treasurer.

Margaret Hardacker, special projects chairman, reported three bake sales scheduled at A. B. Wyckoff's: November 18, January 27 and March 16. For the Nov. 18 sale, orders for fruit cake may be called to Mrs. Hardacker, Phone 2617-M.

Mrs. Jane Thomas, nursery school instructor, reported a waiting list of pupils. Other names may be added to the list by calling Mrs. Thomas at 1226 or Irma Telling at 3547-M.

Mrs. Brown, assisted by Mrs. Morris Jacobson and Mrs. Maxwell Cohen, served refreshments. Attending were: Mrs. Ralph Barnes, Mrs. Robert Bixler, Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. Morton Chaber, Mrs. Maxwell Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Farda, Mrs. Barry Feiden, Mrs. Elwood German, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Hardacker, Mrs. R. Carl Rohrbach, hearing about the first snowfall in the West End of the county and Mount Pocono, hurries in to say, "Put a reminder in the column tomorrow that we have a complete line of rubbers and boots for men, women, and children in our shoe department—and it's pretty silly to wait to buy them until you must wade through a blizzard to reach the store." He's right too, so howabout it? . . . Talk about troubles, you haven't any at all, Pal! A co-worker and good chum recently ordered shoes in her regular size—an absolute necessity with her because shoe stores don't ordinarily stock her needs. They arrived in good time—but apparently the last has been changed or something. The outout toe doesn't even reveal a trace of her foot. "I'm shrinking," she wails, "I never should have taken that bath Saturday night—but when your year's up what you gonna do?" . . . May Smith hurries over to the fountain to tell Betty Bartholomew of our merchandise office that the corset department has just received a big new shipment of merchandise that's waiting to be checked. So, if you have a figure problem (you DON'T, you lucky you!) just come in and get tugged, pulled, coaxed and wheedled into a better shape.

According to the American Hobby Federation, the number one hobby at the present time is stamp collecting, with an autograph collecting running second. Painting is seventh but is increasing constantly in popularity due, perhaps, to the publicity given such notable dabblers in the arts as President Eisenhower and Winston Churchill. Here at Wyckoff's our favorite hobby is helping YOU ride your "hobby horse." Our Stationery department sells unusual stamps in big bulky envelopes that'll keep you pleasantly occupied for hours on end, and our Artist's Supplies stores can sell you canvas, brushes, paints, and a book on "how to." Select your field today and begin "hobby-nobbing" with the best! . . . One of the reasons we are all so pleased about the success of Women's Days is because our boss himself is so pleased. "Papa" Wyckoff had a real thrill of pride in his voice yesterday when he announced that October 21-22 this year were the two most successful consecutive days Wyckoff's has enjoyed in its entire history—and as a token of appreciation there's to be a Halloween party for the store family next Tuesday night. For a boss like that it's a real pleasure to bump your head against a brick wall, and come up smiling! . . . My daughter had me baffled by her request for the record "Geezle" sings, until I discovered she referred to Gisele Mackenzie and "Boston Fancy." And Ernie Mitchell-felder tells me the new Plymouth records haven't arrived yet thanks to the floods in the New England area where they are processed. . . . Women's Days are still not over for Cora Albertson, the president. Down on her knees in one of the offices yesterday, she was stacking the prizes according to their value, while Gracie Grace sent out letters saying "you have won prize 24B" etc. Maybe you were a lucky winner. If so, you'll be hearing about it via the mails within the next week. In the meantime, please do not come in or call—right this minute you probably know as much as we do. . . . Off for a few days. See you soon!

E-J Chorus Lions Show Friday Night

THE ENDICOTT-Johnson Workers' Chorus will give a concert Friday night at 8:30 in Stroudsburg High School auditorium.

Sponsor of the concert is the Lions Foundation of the Stroudsburgs. All proceeds, above expenses, go to the foundation. Tickets are on sale from members of the Lions Club and will be on sale at the door on the night of the concert.

Eleventh Year
With this week's concert, the chorus will mark its 11th year in the entertainment business. It has given 165 benefit performances presented throughout New York and Northeastern Pennsylvania in that time.

The chorus includes popular, semi-classical and classical selections on its program. It has been called back year after year to many locations by popular demand for repeat performances.

The director of the chorus is Harold Albert. He is assisted by William Beddoe. Mrs. Frances Whittemore is the accompanist and Harold Egan is the company manager.

Membership in the chorus is limited entirely to workers from the Endicott-Johnson shoe factory. There are now 90 voices in the chorus.

Among the featured soloists are Frances Little, soprano; Carmen Ellis, contralto; Julia Harvey, soprano; Vernon Pugh, baritone; Jack Sedlock, tenor; Robert Barnes, tenor; Ann Springer, vocalist and accompanist and Vicki Burke, an interpretive and "Hawaiian-style" dancer.

Mrs. Little is best known for her interpretations of Victor Her-

Tickets Still Available For Pocono Little League Banquet

TANNERSVILLE—A spokesman for the Pocono Little League announced yesterday that there has been a rush on tickets for the circuit's annual banquet to be held at Pocono Manor a week from today. Mickey Vernon, highly regarded first baseman for the Washington Senators, will be the guest speaker.

Although there has been a rush on tickets in recent days some tickets are still available. They are $2.50 for adults and two dollars for students under 16 years of age. A crowd of approximately 300 people is expected to be present at the banquet.

Florida Coach Doesn't Plan To Protest

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Oct. 25 (AP)—Coach Bob Woodruff of Florida plans no official protest of what he says was a faked football injury that permitted Kentucky to win a field goal and beat Florida 10-7 Saturday night.

But Woodruff said today he hopes the incident will help to prevent feigned injuries in the future. Coach Blanton Collier of Kentucky denied that he or his staff signalled the players to fake an injury and stop the clock.

"I will accept Coach Collier's word that he and his staff did not signal the players to fake an injury," Woodruff said. "However, someone on his sideline was giving signals to the field and I am convinced that the player No. 67, Bob Collier, did fake the injury."

"I studied movies of the game, which show the play clearly," Woodruff continued, "and I am still convinced it was a fake injury to stop the clock which allowed the kicker and the kicking tee to enter the game."

The clock did stop with 34 seconds left when Bob Collier, a guard not related to the coach, lay on the field. Kentucky substituted Delmar Hughes, a quarterback, who carried in the rubber tee from which he kicked a field goal for the winning points.

At Lexington, Collier, visibly disturbed, told his weekly press conference "it never entered my mind that he (Bob Collier) wasn't hurt."

The coach explained:

Running-Out

"We wanted to get one more pass play. Time was running out and I yelled at Collier to get up. An official called time. I've got a guard injured and can only get a substitute into the game. I turned around and saw Hughes standing by me."

"I asked him, 'Delmar, do you feel you can go in there and kick this thing?' Hughes said, 'I can't so I sent him in and moved Walker (fullback Bobby Walker) to guard. The crux of the thing is I didn't know Hughes was available," Collier continued.

Hughes was injured earlier and Collier said he was told the No. 2 quarterback had gone to the training room. It developed, however, Hughes had moved to the far end of the bench.

The coach explained he had two other goal kickers, quarterback Bob Hardy and tackle Lou Michaels, in the lineup at that time. Billy Pepper, Gainesville newsman who today saw films of the injury play, said the Kentucky player was involved in very little contact but that he went to the ground, grabbed his stomach, looked up the field and then grabbed his leg.

Coach Collier had said the player had a nerve injury in the shoulder.

However, 34 seconds later he was seen exchanging congratulations with his teammates on winning the game.

Without the injury, Kentucky probably wouldn't have had time to get Hughes or the kicking tee in the game.

Stem To Appear As Toastmaster At Banquet

Speaker To Be Named Next Week

BARTONSVILLE — Walter Stem, former umpire-in-chief of the Pocono Mountains Baseball League, will be the toastmaster at the circuit's annual banquet next month, it was announced last night following a meeting of the banquet committee here at Bartonsville Hotel.

Gilbert "Gib" Bachman, committee chairman and manager of the pennant winning Saylorsburg club, revealed that Stem, a former coach and teacher at East Stroudsburg High, had officially accepted a request to appear at the banquet.

Stem is now a department head in the Valley Stream L. I. school system.

Bachman announced that only preliminary plans were brought up for discussion at last night's gathering.

The committee is attempting to acquire a major league baseball player to serve as guest speaker.

Tickets

Sale of tickets and other arrangements also came up for discussion last night.

In addition to Bachman, other members of the committee present were Ray Davies and Jim Werkheiser, manager of the Reders and Tannersville entries in the league respectively.

League officials, attending were Clinton I. Getz, president; Henry Weiss, first vice president, and John Wernett, secretary.

The committee will hold another meeting next Tuesday at the Popokoko Hotel, Effort, at 8 p. m.

Former Star Wins Suit

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 25 (AP)—The leg injury which Maureen Connolly Brinker said ended her tennis career brought her $95,000 in a damage suit jury verdict today.

Mrs. Brinker, 21, who as the teen-aged "Little Mo" Connolly won most of the world's important women's championships, had asked for $265,000.

Charge

She charged in the suit that her amateur career was wrecked and her hopes for professional profits blasted when she was brushed from her horse by a concrete truck July 2, 1954.

The Superior Court jury returned its verdict, on a nine to three vote, after six hours, 20 minutes deliberation.

The former tennis queen told newsmen she considered the verdict fair. She was in court with her husband, Norman Brinker, former U. S. Olympics equestrian star, when the verdict was returned.

Retired Officer Leads Field

PINEHURST, N. C., Oct. 25 (AP)—Col. C. D. McAllister, a retired Air Force officer from Orlando, Fla., today paced a field of 16 into tomorrow's second round of the fourth annual North and South Seniors golf championships.

Favorites

McAllister, who fired a 68 yesterday to win medalist honors, advanced in the championship flight with an impressive four and three victory over L. G. Beatty, the local favorite.

Another favorite who advanced included N. J. Kraft Jr., Titusville, Pa., who defeated John W. Lindsay, Pinehurst, six and five.

Zimmer Struck On Wrist

SAN JUAN, P. R., Oct. 25 (AP)—Don Zimmer, Brooklyn's "hard luck kid" is out of action again with a fracture of the right wrist that will sideline him in the Puerto Rican League for a month.

Zimmer, who was Brooklyn's regular second baseman for part of the 1955 season, was hit on the wrist by a pitched ball last night at Mayaguez. The X-rays showed a "small" fracture.

Beamed

While playing with the Dodgers' farm club at St. Paul in the American Association in 1953, Zimmer suffered a fractured skull when hit by a pitched ball.

Alston, Webb Draw

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 25 (AP)—Roy Alston, 152, of Trenton, fought an eight-round draw tonight with Tommy Webb, 154, of Jamaica, N. Y., in the main event at the Trenton Arena.

Indians Ship Doby To Chisox In Deal For Carresquel, Busby

CHICAGO, Oct. 25 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox' 18-year search for a reliable cleanup hitter apparently had ended today when they obtained slugging Larry Doby, 30, from the Cleveland Indians.

In their biggest deal since the departure of trade master Frank Lane to the St. Louis Cardinals several weeks ago, the Sox gave the Indians shortstop Chico Carrasquel and outfielder Jim Busby. It was a straight player transaction.

The Sox, who have finished third in the American League race the last three years, long have had a weakness in the No. 4 spot in the batting order. They haven't had a consistent long ball hitter since Zeke Bonura drove 440 runs across home plate for them from 1934 to 1937.

Welsh Still Number One At Navy

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 25 (AP)—Quarterback George Welsh of Coaldale, Pa., who sat out the Penn game with a toe injury Saturday returns to the Navy helm this week and Tom Forrestal, the sophomore who came from nowhere to replace him, goes back on the bench.

That was the word from Coach Eddie Erdelatz today as his undefeated football team settled down to serious work for its big one against Notre Dame in South Bend Saturday.

Welsh and two other first-stringers who rested their bruises with him during the 33-0 rout of the Quakers, reported back to practice today. Erdelatz said end Earle Smith, still bothered with a leg injury from two Saturdays ago, probably will remain out of the lineup this week.

He has hopes the others, Capt. John Hopkins at tackle and sophomore Tony Stremig at guard, will be ready for action along with Welsh. All three of them and Smith spent most of last week at the Navy hospital getting a complete rest.

Wide Open

There was no doubt the Middle coach would have used all except Smith if he had to against the winless Quakers last Saturday, but he wanted them sound for clashes with Notre Dame and Duke on successive Saturdays.

Erdelatz also wanted a better look at his reserves, who hadn't seen too much action behind Navy's powerful first team.

He liked what he saw against Penn, particularly the way Forrestal came fresh from the junior varsity to direct the team. But he left no doubt that he considered "ridiculous" any thoughts that Forrestal might give Welsh a battle for the starting job.

"There's no comparison between the two," Erdelatz said. "Welsh is an All American in every respect. Forrestal is a kid who was playing his first varsity game against a team that had lost 13 straight. He looked all right but he needs experience."

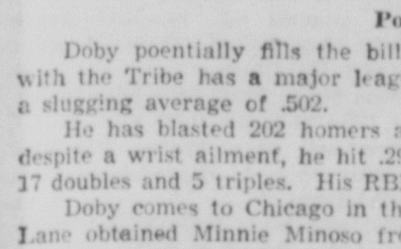

Forrestal, who was an All-American high school player at St. Ignace in Cleveland, Ohio, still is Navy's No. 2 quarterback behind Welsh going into today's practice. How long he would retain it over junior Gus Prabal and sophomore Pat Flood remained to be seen.

Welsh, recognized as the greatest quarterback in Navy's history, isn't likely to relinquish the job to anybody short of getting his neck broken. He had a tough time getting there himself.

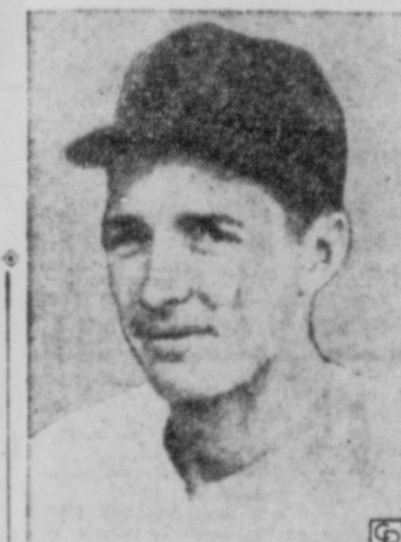

As a plebe, the scrappy little signal caller was a third-stringer who was found by his coach practicing handoffs behind the stadium during a game when it was suddenly decided to empty the bench.

As a sophomore, he alternated at quarterback with John Weaver, and completed 39 of 82 passes for 4 touchdowns. Last year as a junior he was injured in the opening game and didn't get back into the starting slot until the fourth game. He wound up in a blaze of glory, completing 47 out of 95 passes for 8 touchdowns and directing Navy to victories over Army and Mississippi.

This year he blossomed fully into his own, completed 40 of 61 passes for 635 yards and 5 touchdowns in Navy's first four games and logged three quarters of action in each contest.

Kist To Show Films At Banquet

JACK KIST, football coach at East Stroudsburg High, will be one of the honored guests at next Tuesday's Father and Son Banquet at the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church, it was announced last night by Albert Capuano.

Kist is scheduled to show films of the Bangor-East Stroudsburg grid battle at Memorial Stadium and to speak to the group briefly.

Time

The banquet is scheduled to get underway at 6:30 p.m.

Ladies of the church will prepare the turkey dinner.

Griffith Shows Improvement

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—Clark Griffith, 85, continued to show "some slight improvement" today but remained in critical condition in an oxygen tent.

Dr. George A. Rosta, physician to the owner of the Washington Senators' baseball club, said Griffith got "some relief" from a lung congestion. The favorable report was the second one of the day.

Hemorrhage

Griffith last Saturday suffered what was described as a "major stomach hemorrhage."

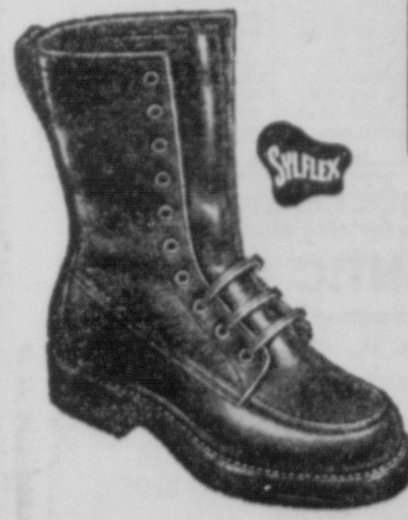

Saxton Gains Decision

HOLYOKE, Mass., Oct. 25 (AP)—Former welterweight champion Johnny Saxton floored durable Jackie O'Brien of Hartford, Conn., twice tonight while pounding out a unanimous 10-round decision before a crowd of 1,300 at the Valley Arena.

Varsity 'E' To Drive For Members

A MEMBERSHIP drive was the number one topic of discussion at last night's regularly scheduled meeting of the Varsity "E" Club of East Stroudsburg High School.

The club decided to increase the yearly dues from one to two dollars, so that its new club room at Memorial Stadium can be furnished, painted and made ready for regular meetings.

A strong bid for 1956 memberships will get underway in a very short time. The new memberships begin on January 1 and end on December 31.

Midget Football

The club has also announced plans to sponsor a brief Midget Football game prior to the East Stroudsburg-Port Jervis game, subject to proper approval.

Each of the four Midget teams will play for a total of 12 minutes prior to the regular scholastic grid contest of Friday, November 4. No time schedule was announced for the program.

Russell "Bucky" LeBar, club treasurer, reported that the club had a balance of $1,361.54 in its treasury.

Other discussions of minor importance also took place during the meeting.

The next meeting will be held at Stroud Manor, Annapolis, on Tuesday, November 29.

President Joe Perfetti presided over last night's meeting.

EAST STROUDSBURG State Teachers College lost a football game to West Chester last Saturday afternoon, but the Warriors battled to the very end and forced the Rams to play at top speed right down to the wire before the verdict was official. All this happened even though Coach Gene Martin and his gridders weren't supposed to have a chance against the highly rated Rams of West Chester, who are now a little above the average teachers college—in sports that is.

In the last nine football seasons this scribe has witnessed many exciting grid battles on the Normal Hill terrain, but I can't remember one that is comparable to that which unfolded in front of some 7,500 spectators last Saturday. Right up to the bitter end the Warriors were still very much in the game and never was the outcome settled until the final whistle sent the possible record crowd to other "Home Coming Days" festivities.

Picking a star or an outstanding player for the Warriors would be like searching for a marble in a bushel basket full of jelly beans. True, the home team's passing attack was hopeless at times, but even with this factor very much against success, the Martinmen fought back to come within a whisker of registering the biggest upset of the current campaign in the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference.

ESSTC played a poor first quarter, but came back so strongly in the next three that the first 15 minutes of action was virtually forgotten at the game's end. The selection of plays used by East Stroudsburg in the opening minutes was particularly bad because it was virtually the same pattern as followed by the Warriors against Shippensburg. The entire West Chester squad outscored the ESSTC-Shippensburg contest and followed script by piffing two ESSTC passes.

The two passes were turned into 10 points, just as quickly as Shippensburg worked two interceptions into 13 points against the Warriors. Otherwise the Normal Hill tenants were great. They ran hard, fought hard and probably even more important they never quit, even though they faded 10-0 and 16-6 deficits in the first and second halves. When the entire story was told, the fact still remained that West Chester was forced to scrap from the short end of the score to earn the favorable nod.

When West Chester scored the first time it took three cracks from within the ESSTC four-yard mark before the double chalk line could be crossed. The final touchdown for the visitors, which came in the last period, almost didn't come at all. The Rams were forced to crack the ESSTC line four times from the two-yard marker to make the grade. Two home town tacklers had their hands on Ed Morrell as the right half-back registered the winning touchdown on a fourth down and goal situation.

If either one of the ESSTC defenders had dropped Morrell to his knees the home team would have taken over possession of the ball on their own four and may have held on long enough to win. The play of Frank Krystiniak and Clyde Sweigert in the line rates special mention, as do the key tackles applied by Walt "Moose" Bjorn and Wilmont Smith, a pair of youngsters who will be heard from later on the basketball court.

Bjorn almost stopped the first West Chester touchdown with his tackle, while Smith threw a two-yard loss in the shadow of the ESSTC goal as the Rams drove for the game winning six-pointer. East Stroudsburg's own Dick Mering, one of the outstanding members of the Warriors, ripped off the game's longest run when he scampered 31 yards and set up the first touchdown for the Martinmen. Don Carbone, out of competitive football for several seasons, found himself again against West Chester and turned in a brilliant performance.

The entire ESSTC grid squad is to be congratulated for the manner in which it scrapped right up to the final whistle. Although outmanned, the Warriors were certainly never outgamed. In conclusion I would like to say to Jim Optinger that this column will always remember him for his great high school football performances and for his solid college play to date and not for dropping a pass that might have resulted in a touchdown against West Chester. I've watched Jim play too many outstanding games to judge him on one play.

ESSTC Girls Face Gettysburg

Field Hockey Squad To Risk Record

EAST STROUDSBURG State Teachers College will attempt to protect its undefeated field hockey record today when the Warriorettes play host to a strong Gettysburg College squad on the Normal Hill field.

Action is scheduled to get underway at 3:15 p.m.

The Warriorettes have taken the measure of Lock Haven and the Alumnas, by scores of 2-0 in each case. ESSTC battled Drexel to a 3-3 deadlock in its only other outing.

Coach Katherine Griffith is expected to stick with the same lineup that has carried the bulk of the load for ESSTC thus far this season.

Starters

Today's outing is the final home appearance of the current campaign for the Warriorettes, who round out the schedule at Panzer College next Wednesday and at Ursinus College on Tuesday, November 15.

Ellian Williams, regular right wing, won't play in today's contest because of an injury.

ESSTC will take part in the collegiate field hockey tournament in West Chester this weekend.

Four Tie In Grid Contest

FOUR contestants tied for first place in the football contest sponsored by The Daily Record for the week ending October 22nd, and the four will share equally in the total weekly prize money of $15. Each of the four correctly named 20 victorious teams in the 25-game contest list.

The winners are Mrs. Bonnie Kraemer, 522 Sarah St. and Bob Davies, 115 Elizabeth St. both of Stroudsburg, and Helen Shaffer, 126 Ridgeway St. and Marilyn Stine, 164 Elizabeth St., East Stroudsburg.

Ladies Dominate

It is interesting to note that three of the four winners are of the gentler sex, as the ladies really outdid the men in their forecasting . . . and also interesting that Elizabeth St., Stroudsburg, and Elizabeth St., East Stroudsburg, each contributed a winner.

Crowe's Club Maintains Big Edge In Race

CROWE'S Insurance lost its first point of the season in the Delaware Valley Bowling League last Saturday, but the East Stroudsburg contingent continues to pace the loop by a wide margin.

The Crowemans lost one point to the Fleas Club last Saturday, but the league leaders have 19 points on the won side of the ledger.

Second Place

Pappy's Central Alleys, of Bethlehem, is currently holding down second place, seven points behind the pace setters. The first and second place contingents will clash at Harmon's Recreation on Saturday, at 8 p.m.

Parkway, Phillipsburg, and Gebhardt's Supply, Bethlehem, are tied for third place with 12 points won and the same number lost.

H. P. Kinsey Co., Easton, is fourth with a 10-10 record.

Standings follow:

	W	L
Crowe's Insurance	19	1
Pappy's Central	14	10
Parkway	12	12
Gebhardt's Supply	12	12
H. P. Kinsey Co.	10	10

St. Louis University Draws Year's Probation From NCAA

CHICAGO, Oct. 25 (AP)—St. Louis University today drew a one year probation from the NCAA and Baylor University and the University of Wichita were reprimanded.

The 18-man council, policy-directing body of the NCAA, reported that St. Louis was in violation of its athletic code for offering a prospective athlete financial aid in excess of that permitted by the rules of the Missouri Valley Conference and the NCAA.

The incident involved only one athlete, a basketball player, who no longer is a student at the university, the council said.

The probation period begins today. The committee on infractions will review the athletic policies and practices of the university next summer or early fall.

Reprimand

A reprimand was meted out to Baylor, the council said, for providing transportation to two prospective athletes for a campus visit.

Wichita was accused of paying transportation costs of one prospective athlete who visited the campus.

The council also announced a clean bill of health for City College of New York which had been on probation for a year as the result of accusations growing out of the 1950 basketball "fix" scandals.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said that a school placed on probation merely will be kept under surveillance.

Measures taken against the three institutions leaves 16 cases of violations currently pending for disposal, Byers added. Identities of these schools were not revealed.

"Since the NCAA enforcement program was started in January of 1952, 71 cases have been processed," he said. "Of these, 18 cases involving 22 institutions drew punitive action."

Punitive action ranges from reprimand and probation to schedule cancellation, suspension from the NCAA and expulsion.

Increase

"Penalties will be increased after June 15 of next year," Byers said.

Two other universities currently are on probation—Oklahoma for two years and Cincinnati for one year, effective last April 26.

Before the council adjourned its three-day session, it adopted these bylaw amendments to be submitted to the NCAA convention in Los Angeles in January:

1. Change the start of basketball practices from Nov. 1 to Oct. 15 and eliminate the 20 sessions of spring or post-season drills now permitted. The 26-game maximum regular schedule would remain, as would the Dec. 1 date for playing the first game.

2. An employee of any member institution cannot participate in any way in any all star high school contest unless such a contest is sanctioned by the appropriate state high school athletic association.

Arizona Back Regains Front Spot

By The Associated Press
ART Luppino, a 170-pound half-back from Arizona, has regained the No. 1 position among the major college football ground gainers. George Welsh, Navy's brilliant quarterback who led a week ago, has slipped to sixth because he "sat out" the Penn game to be ready for Notre Dame this Saturday.

Statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau revealed that Luppino has carried the ball 722 yards in 122 plays, all on the ground. He did throw two passes along the way, but both were intercepted. In the Oregon game last week, Luppino added 166 yards rushing.

Advantage
In both rushing and total offense, Luppino holds the edge over Jim Swink of Texas Christian, who has gained 693 yards, all on the ground. Swink has tried one pass all season and it fell incomplete. Bill Beagle of Dartmouth completed six of nine passes against Harvard for a total of 59 as compared to 58 by Wake Forest's Nick Consoles. Welsh of Navy has the highest percentage of completions with 40 in 61 for 656. Jimmy Bowen of Denver tops them all with seven touchdown passes.

The toughest runner to throw for a loss is Maryland's Ed Vereb. He has carried 58 times for 338 yards without a loss.

Pittsburgh's Board Of Directors Selects Brown To Succeed Rickey As General Manager

By Joe Bradis
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25 (AP)—Handsome Joe L. Brown, 37, son of famed movie comedian Joe E. Brown, became general manager of the pennant-hungry Pittsburgh Pirates today with a promise to get the team "back in the race and into the World Series."

"The job, of course, is a great challenge to me, but I think it is a challenge that can be met," said the successor to Branch Rickey Sr. Brown's contract for one year at an undisclosed salary makes him one of the youngest top executives in the major leagues.

Rickey, who will remain in an advisory capacity, will serve as board chairman and also will be a director, his son, Branch Jr., also retains his post of vice president in charge of minor league clubs.

Protege
Brown, a protege of Rickey since he was 16, said his first big job will be to name a new field manager to succeed Fred Haney who was let out the day before the 1955 season ended.

Haney today signed as a coach with the Milwaukee Braves for one year.

Selection of the Pirates' field manager "will not be a hurried choice," said Brown.

"We've received many applications. Some of them I've seen. The others have been sent to various board members on the club. I'll have to give all of them a close look."

Young Brown said he was inheriting a fine organization—"one that has passed the corner" on the road back from the National League cellar. The Pirates finished last last year but were playing good ball with some steadily improving youngsters at the end of the season.

In five years under Rickey, the team was seventh once, and last four times.

The directors also named Danny Galbreath, 27, son of John W. Galbreath, the club's president, a member of the board. Young Galbreath works with his father in the real estate business.

Takes Over
John Galbreath, Columbus, Ohio, real estate millionaire, said young Brown will take over his new duties effective Nov. 1 "and will have complete charge of the club."

"There is no subterfuge on this board in any sense of the word," commented Galbreath. "Joe Brown is general manager of the club."

"Mr. Rickey wants to make that clear. He (Brown) is on his own and has to make it on his own. He's going to run the ball club."

Galbreath said he had turned down an offer to sell the Pirates two days after the World Series for enough cash that "we could have gotten out whole without any loss." He did not disclose who made the offer.

Rickey, who built pennant winners at St. Louis and Brooklyn told reporters:

"There is sadness in retiring, but I feel like a little boy at Christmas. I'm getting what I want. I never changed my mind about stepping down out of the active role at the conclusion of my contract."

"I said a year ago August that I intended to step down and I have. The board has selected a man within the structure of the club and I'm gratified."

"The team has not yet arrived," Rickey said, "but we have turned the corner. The club is going to show, and very quickly."

Rickey said one of his jobs will be to travel and hunt talent for the ball club. "I think my first trip will be to Mexico," he said.

American horses haven't been too successful in this annual race.

Attempt
The last Irish Sweepstakes of the year are based on the race. British bettors try to couple the Cesarewitch winner with the Cambridge winner for the "autumn double."

Manati, owned by Robert Sharples, has been favorite for some time. But some experts think Turk's Blood, a four-year-old owned and trained by Pat Beasley, may out Manati from favorite spot before the start.

The only American-owned horse in the race is Robert Sterling Clark's Ticonderoga. The Upper-ville, Va., owner's three-year-old bay colt is a longshot in the betting.

Robinson Hurts Ankle In Training

CHICAGO, Oct. 25 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, boxing's erstwhile song-and-dance man, today came up with an ankle injury which postponed his middleweight title bout with champion Bobo Olson from Nov. 4 to Dec. 9.

The bout, if Robinson mends during the delay, still will be held at the Chicago Stadium and televised nationally.

The sponsoring International Boxing Club said Robinson, 35, training at Greenwood Lake, N. Y., sprained his right ankle while boxing Sunday.

Robinson was examined by a doctor yesterday, the IBC said, with the decision being that the ankle was badly sprained. After diathermy treatment, Sugar Ray returned to his camp.

Intense Pain
He planned to work out for newsreel men today, but suffered intense pain, the IBC reported, when he stepped on his foot an hour before the scheduled workout.

There was some speculation that Robinson's injury might not have pained the UBC as much as the gate sale for the Nov. 4 bout.

The IBC was irked considerably when Robinson showed up for a formal contract signing in Chicago last Friday, then left immediately for his eastern camp.

Truman Gibson, IBC secretary, took a dim view of Sugar Ray's departure. This left only Olson on the local scene to drum up ticket sales. Gibson visited the East last weekend and said Robinson would come to Chicago Thursday and finish his training here for the fight.

Olson began packing immediately to return to his San Francisco home for a layoff of several weeks. "I'm naturally disgusted," said the middleweight champion, "I've put in a lot of work for nothing."

KC Council Plans Youth Week Here

THE REGULAR monthly meeting of the Father Butler Council of the Knights of Columbus was held on Monday evening in St. Matthews School Auditorium. Plans for National Catholic Youth Week were made.

Committee reports outlining progress on the six-point program for the 1955-56 year were made. Much progress was noted in the formation of new committees.

During the proceedings the Council members were informed on the forthcoming observance of National Catholic Youth Week, October 30 to November 6, 1955.

The council voted their full support of the event and appointed the following members as a committee in charge of publicity on the affair: Chairman, Jack Mullins; radio publicity, Edward Driebe; newspaper, James Murphy; rosters, Albert Zateeny; Ziz Vichnicki; bumper displays, Edward Boushell; Truman Burnett.

Committees Membership committee appointed is Albert Zateeny, Stroudsburg; John J. Garrity, E. Stroudsburg.

A large number of members were present and refreshments were served following the meeting. Prospective new members are urged to contact any of the membership committee or any other member of the council.

The next regular meeting will be held on the third Monday of November.

The immediate aims of the Council are to reach 100 members and to bring the National Catholic Youth Week to the attention of all residents of Monroe County.

Coroner Checks On Road Death

CARBON COUNTY Coroner William R. Weyhenmeyer, Lehighton, tonight will conduct an inquest into the death of Peter Kost, 34, Palmerton, who was killed early Sunday morning in a highway mishap.

As Weyhenmeyer announced the inquest, State Police postponed action against the driver of the death car, John Scrip, 26, Salt Lake City, Utah, and a former Palmer-ton resident.

Special State Senate Race Provides Test

HARRISBURG, Oct. 25 (AP) — A special state Senate election Nov. 8 will provide a direct test of policies of the Leader administration and the record of the long session of the 1955 Legislature.

Former Sen. Peter M. Margie, Democrat, former Pittston publisher, and William H. Davis, Republican, deputy county controller, are opposing candidates for the Senate from the 21st district in Luzerne County.

"I'm campaigning on Gov. Leader's program right down the line," Margie said. "My victory at the polls, of course, will be an endorsement of the governor's program."

Sen. Toole's Death

Davis accepted the issue with this statement: "I'm absolutely opposed to any form of income or wage tax and I would vote against it if Leader proposed another one."

Margie and Davis are candidates for the Senate seat left vacant by the death of Sen. Patrick J. Toole (D-Luzerne) last August. Registration figures for the district show 65,000 Republicans and 35,000 Democrats.

Ten members of the Legislature, five Republicans and five Democrats, also are seeking election to local office in nine counties. Those contests revolve around local issues but politicians may be expected to weigh the results against the record of the individual legislators in the Assembly.

The legislators running for local office include:

Senate: Bane (D-Fayette), common please court; Lane (D-Washington) seeking reelection as county commissioners. House: Spencer (R-Lackawanna), for county commissioner.
